Q "I noticed that many countries show living persons on their coinage. What is the U.S. policy regarding portraits of living persons?" — D.B., Ithaca, NY

A When the U.S. Mint was established in 1792, many members of the Senate favored a representation of President Washington's head on each coin. A bill that originated in the Senate just one year before had proposed that, "upon one side of each of the said coins there shall be the head of the President." But the House considered the idea a monarchical practice, and Washington himself is believed to have expressed disapproval. Since that time, living persons have never appeared on regular issue U.S. coinage.

However, engravers of U.S. coins frequently used living persons as models for Liberty. George T. Morgan, for instance, patterned his version of Liberty after Anna Williams, a 19-year-old Philadelphia girl. Her identity was discovered only by accident when ...

Annual Report 1979-1980

Report of the President

It is a pleasure to report that the past year has been most eventful for our American Numismatic Association, a year characterized by growth and progress.

During the twelve-month period that ended May 31, 1980, 4,470 new members were admitted to our ranks. During the same period, ANA lost only 1,033 members, the lowest annual loss during the past sixteen years. By way of contrast, ANA lost an average of 4,222 members per year during the preceding four years, and lost an average of 2,897 members per year during the fifteen-year period prior to the past year.

During the past fiscal year, the Certification Service (ANACS) received an average of 1,419 coins per month for authentication, as compared to 924 coins for the prior fiscal year. Fifty percent of the coins received for authentication were also submitted for grading. I greatly appreciate the competence and dedication of our professional authenticators and graders, the outside consultants and all of the other members of the ANACS staff.

Considerable space could also be devoted to a detailed discussion of the success and growth of all other activities of our association, such as The Numismatist, the conventions, the museum, the library, the audio-visual educational program, the young numismatists program, the annual seminar, and numerous other activities. Such activities are discussed in subsequent portions of this Annual Report.

The ANA Board reinstated the Round Table meeting for the current year, and I hope and expect that such a gathering will be held annually in future years. The Round Table provides a forum for hobby leaders to discuss matters of interest and to make recommendations to be considered by the Board at the annual August convention. The Round Table meeting held this year in Colorado Springs provided an exchange of ideas for the improvement of the grading system and covered other topics of importance to ANA and to numismatics in general.

I have reactivated the ANA Advisory Council composed of former ANA officers and Board members. The members of the Council will meet during each August convention. As a result of their past experience in ANA affairs, this group can offer worthwhile suggestions and constructive criticism for the benefit of ANA. It is my intention to fully cooperate with the Council in providing information and responding to matters of concern.

Except for executive sessions, all Board meetings remain open to the members during my term as President. Each person attending the meetings will be furnished with an agenda. Closed executive sessions are necessary in order to consider complaints, the awarding of bourse tables and other matters whose disclosure to the public would be contrary to the interests of ANA and its members. During my term of office, the executive sessions, to the extent possible, will be held on the day preceding each convention in order to provide the Governors with more time to meet with members during the convention and participate in other convention activities.

During my first year in office, I attended 22 state, regional and national conventions, other coin shows and events, and the ANA Round Table. I appeared before two subcommittees of the House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs to testify with respect to the Susan B. Anthony dollar and the operations of the United States Mint. In the course of attending various functions, I visited 15 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and Mexico.

A visitor to our Colorado Springs Headquarters will readily discern the necessity for the building addition. There is a deplorable lack of working space, with three or four persons jammed into rooms that are customarily meant for one, or at the most two, employees. I have great confidence that our necessary goal of $1,000,000 will be raised through the generous response of the members.

I am most grateful to all those who have worked so diligently during the past year in promoting the growth of ANA. I extend my thanks to all elected and appointed officers, the entire staff at Colorado Springs, all committee chairmen and members, all exhibitors, authors, dealers, donors, seminar instructors, membership recruiters, ANACS consultants, and concerned elected and appointed government officials.

It is my hope that ANA will continue to grow and be responsive to the needs of collectors, numismatic organizations, dealers, scholars, young numismatists, exhibitors, and all others devoted to the hobby and science of numismatics.

Georg A. Hatis

It was a very good year . . .

If there were every any doubts about the bright future of the American Numismatic Association, this past year should have dispelled them. It was for the ANA a very good year, a year of growth and a year full of resolve for the future.

When world gold and silver prices went soaring to new record highs, precious metals, whether in bullion form or in the form of rare coins, were the center of public attention. In a time when caution and uncertainty seemed to pervade the economic market, here was an investment option with staggering potential, and everyone wanted to get in on the action. Dealers reported having people lined up around the block waiting to do business, and advertising in The Numismatist reflected the trend with the largest page increase in the past decade. The government found response to their sale of over 950,000 Carson City silver dollars overwhelming, and in an effort to meet the continuing public demand for bullion coins and compete with the growing issues of both foreign and private mints, plans were developed for a series of gold commemorative medals.

Being both a member service and public service, the ANA saw a sharp rise in the number of visitors to the library and museum, the use of the certification and grading service, and the number of inquiries by phone or letter.

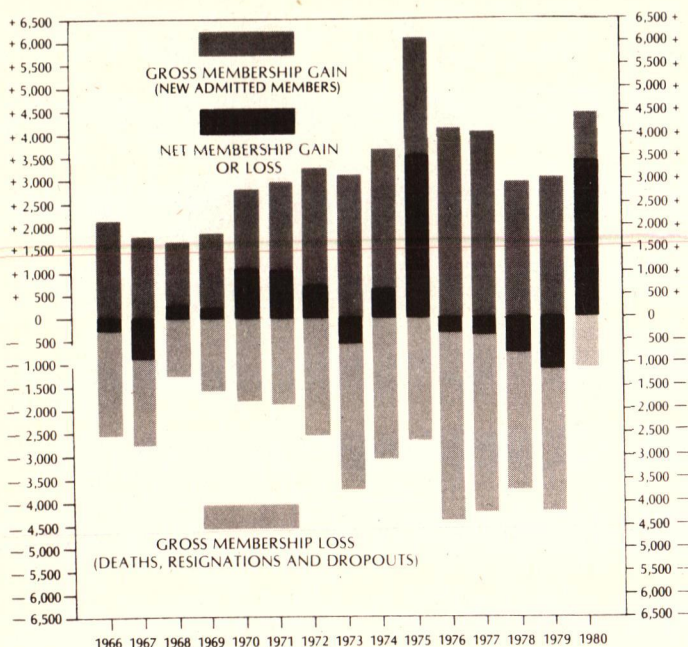

Granted, much of this new found interest in numismatics is as fickle as the market which created it, but on the other hand, many a life-long numismatist will attest to having started as an investor only to fall prey to the beauty and lore of coins and wind up as a collector. It is said there are over 200,000 potential coin collectors in the United States. With that untapped potential and the public's growing interest in numismatics in mind, ANA governor and co-chairman of the membership committee Q. David Bowers took the mailing list for Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, Inc. and sent each of his customers an ANA application along with a cover letter extolling the advantages of ANA membership and calling for their support of the hobby. In February, the applications began pouring into headquarters and by the end of April, the team of Bowers and Murbach had broken all records by having signed up 1,183 new members in a three month period.

The idea of using a dealer's mailing list for an ANA solicitation was not totally a new one. During the 1979 calendar year, governor Kurt R. Krueger had used this method to sign up over 500 new members. But the success of the Bowers mailing spoke for the prevailing interest in the hobby and the momentum toward the association's growth. Other dealers were encouraged to do an ANA mailing to their customers. James Halperin and Lee Bellisario, who often lead membership recruitment, placed a membership application in New England Rare Coin Galleries' newsletter, and headquarters subsequently received 271 applications with Halperin and Bellisario's signatures between April 1 and July 25.

Margo Russell, who, as editor of Coin World, has been a staunch supporter of the ANA, periodically places free of charge in her publication a full page ANA ad, the most recent of which brought 367 applications during June and July. Other publications are also promoting the association. From an article in Coins Magazine, the membership department received 118 applications in July signed by

- c. Members as of May 31, 1974, not including 712 subscribers.
- d. Although the fiscal year end was changed to March 31, by board action, the membership data in this report is based on end of May membership records. This is necessary to take into account deletions in April for nonpayment of dues and to have 12-month data for periods comparable to recent years.

Robert Lemke and Clifford Mishler, and 54 inquiries have already been answered from people who read about the ANA on the last page of the newly released 1981 "Red Book."

The growth in membership is especially encouraging, coming at a time when the association is expanding both its facilities and its services. The ANA certification service perhaps most keenly illustrates this expansion. Demand for its use has grown from 4,529 coins submitted for authentication in ANACS's first eight months of operation in Colorado Springs to last fiscal year's ten month record of over 14,000 coins submitted for authentication, half of which also called for a grade determination. To meet that demand, a staff of four in 1976 has grown to a staff of ten, but the service's office space has remained the same, limited to the converted editorial production area given them when the certification service was first transferred from Washington, D.C. One of the features headquarters offered which first helped to improve the authentication service was a small in-house darkroom with which certificate production could be speeded up. But the darkroom also became much too limited for ANACS's needs, and during this past year storage space had to make way, as a larger darkroom facility was built in the lower level at headquarters. Another special room was built in the lower level to house a scanning electron microscope, a purchase approved by the ANA board of governors to increase the service's technical information system.

The acute lack of space at headquarters is not limited to ANACS, however. Throughout the building, offices which contained one or two employees now contain three or four, and wherever space could be found offices have been created, right down to Betty Higby's 7 x 10 foot office that was once a coat closet. The library's holdings strain to find breathing room among crowded shelves which leave little room for study areas. And the employees' break room looks like Grand Central Station if more than one department takes a break at the same time.

But, even more distressing than the overcrowding is the lack of any space whatsoever for further expansion. The museum, which opened the Stack's Galleries and a special upstairs gallery devoted to an overview of numismatics in the summer of 1979, still lacks exhibit space for the majority of its numismatic collection. Typesetting equipment which would lower long-range costs of printing The Numismatist and offer the means to increase the association's publishing capabilities, can't even be considered in the current facility. As another long-range cost saver, the purchase of a computer was recommended by a study undertaken for the ANA by Fox & Company, but the only space now open to house the computer is the original darkroom upstairs.

Was it just 14 years ago that the foundation was completed for the original ANA headquarters? We've certainly grown since then!

When headquarters first opened, it seemed to the employees there was more space than the ANA would ever need, but the association's determination every year to increase its member services took care of that notion. Seen here is the entry to the administration department nearly a decade ago and today.

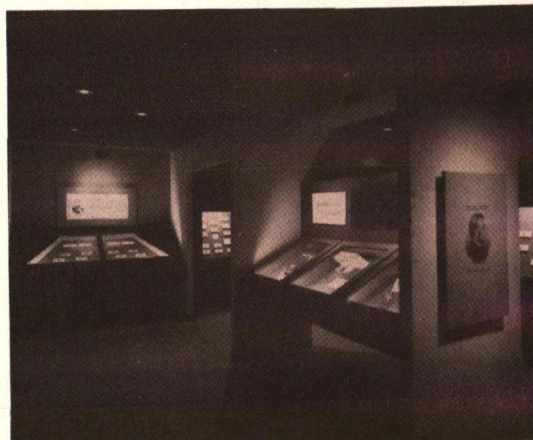

No one who can see the Stack's Galleries now would believe that it looked like this before construction began.

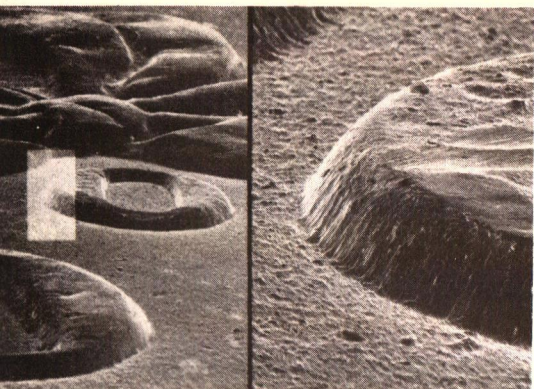

Exhibit cases were all newly constructed for the Stack's Galleries.

ANA's Lower Level Museum Galleries were dedicated in the Spring of 1975.

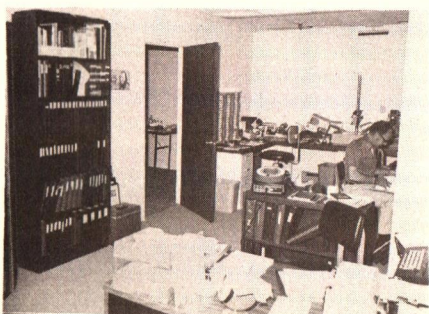

The Stack's Galleries, designed by The Franklin Mint's Tim Carter, opened in February, 1978, providing badly needed exhibit space for the museum's many collections.

Mintmark, New Orleans Silver Dollar

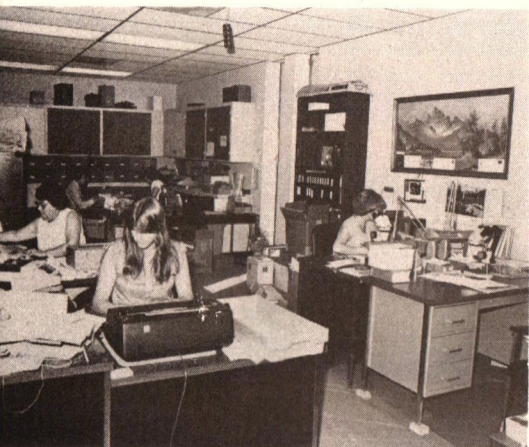

Using the scanning electron microscope, ANACS authenticator trainee Pedro Collazo can now obtain photographic records like those above detailing a coin's surface magnified from 5-X to 300,000-X.

Ed Fleischmann goes over papers "down in the dungeon," the employees' nickname for the new lower level photography department.

Amidst cramped storage, one finds the entry downstairs to the new ANA photography department.

Like education itself, the potential for growth in an educational organization like the ANA is limited only to human imagination and enthusiasm. But in order to develop that potential, the association needs the space to grow, and it was with that in mind that the Building Fund was established. The goal of the fund is to raise $1,000,000 for an addition to headquarters which will double the size of the present facility, and with the drive only just underway, over $200,000 had been donated as of July 25.

Members who like to donate to specific departments at headquarters, such as the library or ANACS, need to request that their tax-deductible donations go to the Building Fund—Library, etc., which will help meet that department's current need for space. Names of all donors of $10 or more are being published in The Numismatist, with donors of $2,000 to $4,999 designated as "Patrons," $5,000 to $9,999 as "Grand Patrons," $10,000 to $24,999 as "Benefactors," and those giving $25,000 or more distinguished "Grand Benefactors." These revised categories were set up by the board of governors at its February 1979 meeting.

ANA Director of Grants and Endowments Betty Higby shows former ANA president Herb Bergen, chairman for the building fund drive, the scaled model of headquarters with the proposed addition.

Much of the $200,000 received so far has come from individual ANA members who included an extra $10 to $50 in their dues payments. In fact, if every ANA member gave just $30, the goal of the Building Fund would be met without any outside help. Several individuals and clubs have given their donation in memory of a recently deceased numismatic friend, and it is planned that rooms and furnishings in the new facilities will honor these past numismatists. Members can also donate material, perhaps duplicates in their collections, which will be auctioned off for the fund, or give specific items which can be used in the building addition. Clubs have the opportunity to hold a myriad of activities, such as shows, bake sales or car washes, with the proceeds to go to the ANA Building Fund, and special recognition is being planned for the club whose efforts produce the most support.

To a membership that had to raise just $290,000 a brief 15 years ago to build the present ANA headquarters, a million dollars to double that space might sound insurmountable. But even with inflation, numismatists know a sound investment when they see one, and for them the ANA is a sure investment in the hobby's future.

Awards

A newly sculptured medallic work of art will highlight this year's ANA awards. Through the generosity of Ray Byrne, the American Numismatic Association's Howland Wood Memorial Award, given for the Best in Show exhibit at the annual convention, has been recreated in the form of a 2½ inch fine silver medal. This unique medal was designed and sculptured by ANA editor N. Neil Harris and had its first presentation at the August 22nd convention banquet in Cincinnati.

Also making its debut this year is an award for Senior Reserve Best in Show, sponsored by chief exhibit judge Robert F. Kriz in recognition of the often close competition for the convention's best senior exhibit. The award consists of a 2½ inch bronze uniface medal, the reverse of the new Howland Wood award, mounted upon a walnut plaque.

Enhancing the annual exhibit awards still further are six division awards which have been established in addition to the 22 exhibit class awards to intensify the competitive spirit. They are: United States Metallic Items, United States Paper Money (funded by the Professional Numismatist Guild in honor of William Donlon), World Metallic Items, World Paper Money, Medals and Decorations, and General or Specialized. In the classes, gold coin exhibit entries were separated into two categories, U.S. Gold Coins and Foreign Gold Coins, the latter being sponsored by James L. Betton in honor of Melvin and Leona Kohl.

Nominations for recipients of this year's Medal of Merit and Farran Zerbe Awards were solicited by the Awards Committee from prominent numismatists and former winners of these awards. A ballot was subsequently sent to some of the ones referred to above, as well as to other prominent members of the association. The results and recommendations were then submitted to the board for final consideration. According to the Awards committee chairman, a sincere and dedicated effort was made by the committee to eliminate politics, personal friendships and prejudices, but the final results do not necessarily reflect these endeavors.

The choice for the ANA Numismatic Art Award for Excellence in Medallic Sculpture resulted in very spirited competition, necessitating three different ballots before reaching a final decision. This would not have been possible without the cooperation of N. Neil Harris, Ed Trautman of the Franklin Mint, Carol Cipot of Medallic Art Company, and Claire A. Stein, Executive Director of the National Sculpture Society.

The Heath Literary Awards are presented annually to outstanding articles published in The Numismatist during the previous calendar year. In addition, one or two articles are recognized for original and comprehensive research in American numismatics and their authors are chosen to receive the Wayte and Olga Raymond Memorial Award, sponsored by John J. Ford, Jr. Judges participating in the selection of this year's winners included Coin World editor Margo Russell; "Red Book" editor Ken Bressett; Franklin Mint Almanac editor Sam Young; ANA editor N. Neil Harris, associate editor Pat Black, and former editor Glenn Smedley. The results of the judging were announced at the Cincinnati convention awards meeting, Friday, August 22.

Complaints

The pattern of complaints being received by Ken Hallenbeck, assistant to the executive vice president, closely resembles last year's, namely disputes involving differences in grading predominate. However, a disturbing trend seems to be emerging of sellers who accept money for coins which they don't actually have in their possession. With a volatile and rising market, certain dealers attempt to go out and buy coins rather than return an order, a procedure resulting in little or no profit. Ultimately a refund is received, but the complaint is made concerning the length of time involved in the transaction and of the dealer "using my money for X months." Fortunately, relatively few ANA or PNG dealers are involved in this type of activity.

The number of letters written by Ken's office regarding complaints during the past year went up a whopping 30.6% or 1,867 compared to last year's 1,430.

Education

Behind every activity undertaken by the association, education stands as the primary motivation, whether it be educating the member to the intricate characteristics of counterfeits or educating the public to the wide array of numismatic collecting subjects. However, for most people the term education brings to mind a classroom, students, and an instructor, so when they think of the ANA and education, they think of the annual summer seminar.

Seminars

Due more to word of mouth than any promotional effort, the number of participants in the ANA Summer Seminar continues to grow every year, with 130 registered for the 1979 session. Knowledge, it would seem, is a collector's only salvation in a market where thousands of dollars can be lost by the inability to detect counterfeits or correctly judge a coin's grade, and demonstrating this need was the popularity of the 1979 courses in Coin Authentication and Grading. Taking time out from the Certification Service's hectic schedule, authenticator John Hunter (now employed by Silvertowne of Winchester, Indiana) emphasized die study, both genuine and counterfeit, to the 60 students in his authentication class. "Red Book" editor Ken Bressett, ably assisted by ANACS staff member Tom DeLorey, introduced grading to seminarians as an analytical process and one which any conscientious student can master. For those numismatists more interested in the beauty and lore of coins than their technical attributes, no instructor could have offered more than Q. David Bowers in his course on "The History of Coin Collecting," which included a trip to the historic mining district of Cripple Creek. All students who attended the 1979 seminar also had the unique opportunity to view the workings of the U.S. Denver Mint from the floor, a privilege granted solely to ANA participants on this special field trip.

In addition to the annual summer seminar, the ANA Certification Service also holds seminars at various conventions. Two sessions, one of which was aimed at the more advanced student, were held at both the ANA St. Louis convention last summer and the Albuquerque midyear convention in February of this year. (In the future, ANACS seminars at ANA conventions will be limited to the midyear gatherings.) Other organizations or shows which also sponsored ANACS seminars, and frequently donated some of the proceeds to the ANA, were Harvey's Inn-Vitational Coin Show, Lake Tahoe, Nev. (June 14-16, 1979 and June 17-22, 1980); Metropolitan Washington Numismatic Assn., Latham, Md. (July 13-15, 1979); Red Rose Coin Club, Lancaster, Penn. (Sept. 29-30, 1979); New England Numismatic Assn., Boston, Mass. (Oct 19-21, 1979); Philippine Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, Manila, The Philippines (Nov. 15-18, 1979); Michigan State Numismatic Assn., Dearborn, Mich. (Nov. 23-24, 1979); Springfield Rare Coin Galleries, Springfield, Ill. (Feb. 29-Mar. 2, 1980); J's Coins and Stamps, Kalamazoo, Mich. (May 2-4, 1980); and Oklahoma Numismatic Assn., Oklahoma City, Okla. (June 7-8, 1980).

Conventions

ANACS seminars, of course, are not the only educational functions held at the ANA's summer and midyear conventions. Over 25 numismatic specialty organizations held meetings or forums in St. Louis, discussing such diverse subjects as foreign paper money, civil war tokens, wooden money, Liberty seated U.S. coins, and Bicentennial $2 cancellations. Highlighting the summer convention's educational offerings was the ANA's own forum which featured three distinguished speakers. Peter P. Gaspar's talk entitled "What Can We Learn from the Inside of a Coin?" brought to listeners Peter's research into non-destructive methods of coin examination. ANA governor Chuck

At the Albuquerque educational forum, Roman L. Latimer acquainted listeners with New Mexico's history by way of his outstanding collection of National Currency issues on New Mexico banks. Jackson Storm, general chairman for the ANA's 1976 New York convention, illustrated another form of currency which played a role in U.S. history--Postage and Fractional Currency, while speaker David T. Alexander explored the many uses of currency to promote or even establish power in his talk entitled "Numismatics as Propaganda."

Slide Program

The ANA library currently has a total of 178 slide sets available for loan to member clubs, featuring 61 different subjects ranging from U.S. coins and paper money to love tokens and British campaign medals.

Five new sets were added to the slide program during the past fiscal year. Two of these are additions to the Seaby's slide series. SS14, entitled "The Hellenistic Monarchies--Alexander the Great to Cleopatra VII," portrays the coinage of those rulers who took over and divided Alexander's kingdom after his death in 323 B.C. The second set from Seaby's is "The Coinage of Republican Rome" (SS15). Beginning with a struck bronze coin from Naples circa 326 B.C., this set traces the development of coinage in Republican Rome to the early imperial coinage of the latter half of the first century B.C.

The other three slide programs added were developed by ANA members. Set no. 42, "Ships and Boats on Modern Coins," was compiled by ANA member C. C. Andrews. It is a history of the development of fighting and cargo ships as portrayed on the modern coins of 38 countries. Leroy C. Van Allen developed set no. 43 on "Morgan Dollar Varieties," containing 33 slides which show varieties through the use of microphotography. The fifth new set, donated by Larry Adams and the Check Collectors Round Table, offers an interesting "History of the Collecting of Checks."

Several improvements were also made on some older sets. The very popular set no. 7, "Famous Women on Coins and Medals," was duplicated, and there are now four copies available for loan.

The slide program is also becoming multi-lingual. Set no. 3B (U.S. Types, 3¢ Pieces Through 20¢) and set no. 17 (Coins with Special Significance) were translated into Spanish by the Sociedad Numismatica de Puerto Rico, and Lt. Col. Clarence Schell of the Heidelberg Coin Club translated set no. 29 (Commemorative Coins of the Weimar Republic, 1919-1933) into German.

Intermediate Numismatic Correspondence Course

At the February, 1979 meeting of the board of governors, Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, assistant to the executive vice president, announced the completion and availability of the Intermediate Numismatic Correspondence Course. The 491 page intermediate level course, a follow-up to the ANA's basic or Young Numismatist Correspondence Course, places at the disposal of collectors a course which has been greatly expanded in topics, increased in depth, and tripled in length. The 20-chapter course, edited by INCC chief administrators Robert and Cheryl Maisch, covers virtually every aspect of numismatics, combining the knowledge of 26 of the most respected authors in numismatics. A heavy vinyl hardcover loose-leaf binder containing the 20 chapters of the course is included as part of the course fees.

As of February, 1980, the Maisches reported that 960 copies of the course had been distributed as follows: 267 to non-member adults at $20 each, 546 copies to member adults at $15 each, 26 copies to nonmember juniors at $13 each, and 25 copies to ANA junior members at $11 each. Of these, 247 students had completed the course, and some 112 had purchased the INCC notebook as reference material with no intent of actually taking the course.

The total cost of development and the current expenses incurred in conjunction with the INCC well exceed the income received so far. However, the course was conceived to serve the educational needs of association members and numismatics in general, rather than make a profit.

Grading

The coin grading service offered by the ANA's Certification Service has achieved widespread recognition in the hobby. In the first year of its existence the number of coins submitted for grading rose from 174 in March, 1979, to 1,022 pieces in March, 1980.

Despite this almost six-fold increase in volume, the time required for the grading of a given coin has been halved. While the majority of the coins submitted for grading in the early months of the service were sent on to consultants for additional grading opinions, now virtually all of the coins are graded in-house by the ANACS staff without the need of outside help.

Thus, the turnaround time for grading a coin has been reduced from 6-8 weeks to 3-4 weeks, thereby making the service more useful to collectors and dealers.

Nevertheless, ANACS continues to make use of these grading consultants when necessary. Each a specialist in one or more areas of American numismatics, these consultants continue to serve as a check upon the accuracy of ANACS grading and as arbitrators of differences of opinion between members of the staff.

Abe Kosoff, chairman of the Grading committee, recommends that the ANA service begin accepting commemoratives to be graded MS-60, MS-65, or Not Uncirculated, a change he feels would bring about a large volume of additional traffic. In addition, he is calling upon the board of governors to create an emblem which would be awarded to deserving dealers in recognition of their high standards of grading. This would also serve to identify bad graders who do not qualify.

Insurance and Rewards

Through the efforts of the ANA staff and the Group Insurance Administrator, Albert H. Wohlers & Co., the ANA's Group Life Insurance Plan was improved once again during the past fiscal year. The policy now offers more member coverage, more spouse coverage, and more coverage per dollar of cost.

Previously, the plan had been able to provide members with life insurance benefits up to $50,000, and spouses up to $2,500. The improved plan now offers coverage up to $100,000 in $10,000 units for both members and spouses. And, for the first time, a spouse can be issued his or her own policy even if the member does not apply, and can receive as much protection as a member.

Besides this improvement in coverage limits, there's been a 10% increase in benefits, at no increase in cost. This means that each $10,000 unit of coverage applied for or currently held is actually worth $11,000. The plan therefore can provide members and their spouses with up to $110,000 of protection each. Children's benefits have also been increased by 10%, to $1,000. This increase remains effective until January 31, 1981, and will be renewed each year as long as good claim experience continues.

The ANA's reward program pays up to $5,000 to individuals furnishing information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for robberies, thefts or deaths in connection with crimes committed against ANA members. During the 1979-80 fiscal year the balance of such a reward was paid to an individual who gave information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the murder of James Carter Keith. James, the brother of ANA member Kenneth Keith, was the victim of a burglary ring which operated in Amarillo over several years and took more than one million dollars in rare coins and expensive jewelry.

Publications

The editorial department, whose first responsibility is editing and preparing camera-ready copy for printing The Numismatist, also produces the Club Bulletin, composes the illustrated programs for the two annual conventions, makes up such forms as convention registration cards and various convention activity tickets and menus, and creates promotional materials. In addition, many small printing jobs, such as developing new forms and revising existing ones and producing certificates, stationery and business cards, arise periodically.

The workload for this department seems to increase steadily every year, and as a consequence there are programs which suffer from neglect. During the past fiscal year two uncontrollable events occurred which added many hours of preparation time to the official journal's monthly schedule, and caused double jeopardy by hitting simultaneously. In September 1979, after six months with X-4 Graphics, it was felt necessary to find a more professional typesetter for The Numismatist, and so the move was made to Williams Printing, also of Colorado Springs. In preparing that first issue with William's personnel, the staff's anxieties were compounded by the largest jump in advertising submissions in years, nearly 18 pages compared to a normal maximum increase of four to five pages.

The jump in advertising forewarned the approaching boom in the bullion market and subsequent dealer activity, and began a trend in the magazine's advertising growth which continued through the fiscal year. The average number of pages per issue increased from 231 in 1978-79 to 250 in 1979-80 as a result of an average increase of 19 pages per issue in the advertising section versus two pages in editorial. Income from advertising increased 11%, largely accounting for a reduction in the net cost per page from $41.60 to $36.00 in spite of increases in printing, mailing, and employee costs.

It took nearly six months to develop a smooth and efficient system of operation with the new typesetters, by which time demands of the February midyear convention were upon the editorial staff. The year's extraordinary workload prevented the issuance of the Club Bulletin on its scheduled bimonthly basis, as well as the production of reprints of outstanding articles from The Numismatist that would have been of benefit to some of the newer members. National Coin Week promotional material, which needed to be mailed in early January, was unavoidably delayed from completion until late March. And new projects, such as a museum pamphlet or an educational booklet, still waited to be conceived and executed.

The department's primary task, however, continued to be maintaining and even improving the standard of excellence applied to The Numismatist. After completing the 1979 volume, which featured a different numismatic specialty in every issue as signaled by the photographic collage on the issue's cover, the staff created an entirely new cover for the 1980 volume which features an unusual numismatic illustration each month. Additional graphic aids such as the use of borders, screens and boxes were increasingly applied in both the editorial and advertising sections. Some of the outstanding articles published during the past fiscal year included John R. Isted's study of "Signature Combinations on U.S. Currency"; David P. McBride's comprehensive research on "Linked Rings," a symbolic device which illustrated early American unity; Joseph R. Lasser's history of the Green family, printers for much of the Colonial currency collected today; Jack Veffert's pictorial salute to Dutch art on The Netherlands paper money; and Vincent Jones' careful analysis into "Recent Trends in Numismatic Investments."

Perhaps the most frequent complaint received regarding the magazine continues to be instances of a late arrival date to individual members. The majority of members report that they receive their magazine between the 8th and the 15th of the month; normally those who receive their magazine later should complain to their local postal authorities. However, many members may have noticed that their February or March issues arrived later than usual. This was caused in part by a delay in the mailing due to the printer's tight scheduling of several publications, a problem which has since been resolved.

Washington

Although U.S. Congressional activity in the coin field has been reduced as compared to last year, numerous inquiries have been made to the office of ANA legislative counsel from various members of Congress, their staff and the professional staff of regulatory sub-committees. In each instance, legislative counsel David L. Ganz has provided them with the information sought, whether in the form of commentary on legislative proposals or information designed to help any future proposed legislation.

For example, the office of the counsel of the Bureau of Engraving & Printing contacted the legislative counsel in order to ascertain potential problems which might arise in connection with changing the manner of printing of the reverse side of the $1 bill. The legislative counsel was able to inform the Bureau of potential problems with automatic merchandisers, together with possible objections that collectors and others might have.

On September 26, 1979, ANA president George D. Hatie, who also serves as chairman of the Washington Liaison Committee, appeared before the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs and the Subcommittee on General Oversight and Renegotiation (subcommittees of the House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs) to testify with respect to the Susan B. Anthony dollar and the operations of the U.S. Mint. His testimony, along with the 29 page written statement he submitted, gave the ANA an excellent opportunity to promote the issuance of commemorative coins. More recently, the ANA Numismatic Roundtable III, held in Colorado Springs July 12, agreed nearly unanimously to send a resolution to Congressman Henry Reuss of Wisconsin, encouraging his efforts toward the U.S. issuance of a gold coin.

Young Numismatists

Under the guidance of committee chairwoman Florence Schook, the ANA's Young Numismatists Program continues to grow yearly, offering more scholarships, more educational programs, and more participation by local, state and regional organizations.

Scholarships to the 1980 ANA summer seminar, which provide airfare to and from Colorado Springs, tuition, room and board, and a field trip to the Denver Mint, reached an all-time high. These scholarships were bestowed upon 12 carefully chosen youngsters, based on their activities and achievements in numismatics, through the benevolence of several organizations and dealers. Over 100 applications poured in for the nine scholarships sponsored by the ANA Scholarship Trust Fund, Mark Chrans (a YN dealer from Springfield, Illinois), Coin World, Krause Publications, the National Optimists Club, Numismatics Ltd. of California, Professional Numismatists Guild, the Token and Medal Society, and Gordon Wrubel. Three other YNs were able to attend through the sponsorship of Birmingham Stamp and Coin, Great Eastern Numismatic Association, and Jesse Patrick of California. These full scholarships are possible with a tax deductible donation of $500. However, smaller donations are placed in the ANA's YN Scholarship Fund, the interest from which generates one or more scholarships each year.

Alan Herbert has added another exhibit award to the YN Awards Program by funding an award in the Error/Variety category. The 13 awards now offered include seven exhibit awards, three literary awards, outstanding adult advisor and outstanding YN of the year. Competition was sharp for this year's literary awards, judged by associate editor Pat Black, with many of the submissions having already merited publication by the numismatic media.

For the first time ever, the YN convention awards breakfast will include in its 1980 program a special auction, complete with catalog compiled by Michael Haines of the Steve Ivy Rare Coin Company. All material to be offered was donated by interested individuals and organizations and will be priced for the budget of a young collector. Proceeds from the auction will be earmarked to purchase a display case for the ANA museum in the name of the ANA Young Numismatists.

The Young Numismatist Correspondence Course (YNCC) continues to grow in popularity, with over 2200 enrollments processed to date. The dedicated service of several YNCC administrators should be credited with the growth and ultimate success of this endeavor, including Joe Lowande of New Jersey, N.R. Mack of South Carolina, and Michael Whelan of New York, all administrators since the program's inception in 1973.

Under the direction of David R. Cervin, another popular and successful educational program, the Roman Coin Project, has helped many young collectors become more involved in the hobby by presenting them Roman and Byzantine coins for their numismatic activities. Efforts are ongoing to offer similar programs in other numismatic specialties; Carlton "Fred" Schwan recently accepted responsibility for the development of a paper money category, and several individuals are under consideration to administer a U.S. coin program for YNs.

Report of the Treasurer

It should be pointed out that figures in this report represent only ten months' operations, since the end of our fiscal year was changed from May 31 to March 31. This earlier date enables the auditors to complete their work in sufficient time preceding our annual convention to use their findings in the ANA annual report.

The total figures from the past year's operations reflect the increasing demands upon all departments and staff of our association. Our current income from Operations, Conventions and ANACS totaled $1,419,921. Total expenses were $1,216,438, reflecting revenues in excess of expenditures of $203,483. The largest increases in revenues occurred within the following: interest income $41,702 vs. $25,177 (66% increase) in 1979, advertising in The Numismatist $228,331 vs. $205,072 (11% increase) in 1979. The largest increase in income was generated by ANACS; Service Fees for ANACS totaled $305,821 for the year, versus $176,943 (73% increase) for the previous year.

Most expenses were in line, merely reflecting normal increases due to continued inflation. Salaries, wages and benefits reflect the major increase in expenditures. In addition, there was an increase in computer charges, this being due primarily to costs incident to last year's election.

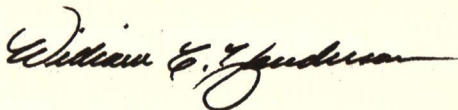

Many figures which I could render in this report would prove to be repetitious since the Auditor's Report is rendered herein, therefore I shall abstain from a detailed analysis. Due to the current decrease in interest rates, it is obvious our interest income will decrease for the coming fiscal year; however, it appears this can be compensated for by the continued increase in revenues from membership dues and fees.

It continues to concern your treasurer to see the funds which are being expended for legal services in California in defense of the pending lawsuits in that area. These funds could be put to more beneficial use at our headquarters.

It is the recommendation of your treasurer that our officers and board of governors give very serious consideration whether to continue the midyear conventions. When viewed by any criteria, the Albuquerque midyear was a success; however, we incurred a substantial loss. It is obvious that with continued inflation and a deepening recession these losses could increase appreciably.

Due to the uncertainty prevailing at this time within our national economy, it would also be the recommendation of your treasurer that our association's funds be invested only with federally insured financial institutions. In addition, it is further recommended that no single investment be made for more than $100,000 with any one institution, thereby assuring full insurance coverage for all of our funds.

Your treasurer wishes to express his thanks to Edward C. Rochette and Ruthann Brettell for their cooperation, and expresses special thanks to Barbara Apuzzo, our new book-keeper, for the outstanding manner in which she has handled all the necessary detail work of her office. She is to be especially complimented for her ability, attitude and cooperative spirit.

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 1980

1. Summary of accounting policies

This summary of accounting policies of the American Numismatic Association is presented to assist in understanding the Association's financial statements.

History and activity

The American Numismatic Association was organized in 1891 and was chartered by an act of the Congress of the United States of America on May 9, 1912. The primary activities of the Association are to advance the knowledge of numismatics along educational, historical and scientific lines in all its various branches; to assist in bringing about better cooperation between all persons interested in the coinage, circulation, classification, collection, sales, exhibition, use and preservation of all coins, bills and medals; to acquire and disseminate trustworthy information bearing upon these topics; to promote greater popular interest in the science of numismatology, and for the particular purpose of bringing the numismatists of America into closer relations with one another, and of promoting friendly feeling for one another through social intercourse, the interchange of ideas and discussions of mutual interest; to acquire, own, hold, and dispose of such personal property and own real estate for its own use, as may be necessary to properly carry into effect the purposes herein set forth, and to perform all such other acts and things as may be necessary to the full carrying into effect the said purposes, but such purposes do not include operations for pecuniary profit. The Association is exempt from Federal income taxes under the provisions of Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3).

Fund accounting

The accounts of the Association are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting to insure the observance of limitations and restrictions placed on resources.

Investments

Investments are normally carried at cost, if purchased, or at market value at date of gift, if donated.

Property, plant, equipment and depreciation

The Association treats property, plant and equipment acquisitions as expenditures in the appropriate funds. Acquisitions which meet the Association's requirements for capitalization are recorded in the Home and Headquarters Fund.

Life membership fees

Life membership fees and the investment income earned thereon are treated as deferred revenue. Current income from life members is recognized based on the Association's dues structure for each life member whose membership fee is carried in the deferred revenue account.

1. Summary of accounting policies (continued)

Noncash donations

Library assets, Home and Headquarters Fund:

The statement of activity does not include noncash donations to the Library nor does the balance sheet include the accumulation of such assets. However, the value of these assets is not considered material in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Numismatic collection, Museum Fund:

The Association has recorded noncash donations to the Museum at their fair market value at the time of donation, as established by the donor, subject to Association approval. In some cases no value was assigned at the time of donation, and in those cases no value was recorded in the records of the Association.

2. Pending litigation

The Association successfully defended a suit in the United States District Court, Central District of California, which was initiated in July 1977, by Superior Stamp & Coin Company, Inc. and Michael Kliman, plaintiffs, engaged directly or indirectly in the coin business. The suit was undertaken as the apparent result of the fact that the plaintiffs were not awarded bourse tables at the 1977 ANA Convention in Atlanta, Georgia. Monetary damages were claimed. The Court dismissed the initial Complaint and several Amended Complaints. The plaintiffs have filed an appeal from the dismissal in the trial court.

The Association is defending its position in the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

3. Analysis of unearned revenues, life memberships

As described in Note 1, the Association follows the practice of not recognizing current income on the full amount of life membership fees collected each year. The following is a summary of activity for the ten months ended March 31, 1980, in the life membership unearned revenue account:

Accumulated life membership fees at June 1, 1979	$446,139
Life membership fees collected from June 1, 1979 to March 31, 1980	86,731
Interest earned by accumulated life membership fees	43,325
Current year dues for life members recognized as dues income in the Operating Fund during the year	(26,884)
Accumulated life membership fees at March 31, 1980	$549,311

4. Pension plan

The Association has a pension plan for the benefit of its employees. The plan is funded currently by the use of insurance contracts. The annual funding requirement is based upon each individual participants' earnings and on insurance mortality tables. The Association's contribution to the plan for the ten months ended March 31, 1980 was approximately $8,400.

5. Changes in accounting method

Recognition of depreciation:

Effective with the ten months ended March 31, 1980, the Association adopted the policy of recognizing depreciation on its building and equipment. It is felt that the adoption of this policy more accurately reflects the cost of operating the Association. The effect of this change has been to decrease current year's excess of revenue over expenditures by $236,710 and to decrease the property, plant and equipment by an equal amount.

Accrual of vacation and sick pay:

Effective with the ten months ended March 31, 1980, the Association adopted the policy of accruing vacation and sick pay in the period earned. It is felt that the adoption of this policy will be to match the Association's personnel costs with the appropriate period. The effect of this change has been to decrease the current year's excess of revenue over expenditures by $30,698 and to increase liabilities by an equal amount.

6. Change in fiscal year

During 1979, The Board of Governors voted to change the Association's fiscal year end from May 31 to March 31.

REPORT OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Governors
American Numismatic Association
Colorado Springs, Colorado

We have examined the balance sheet of the American Numismatic Association at March 31, 1980 and the related statement of activity for the ten months then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the financial statements designated above present fairly the financial position of the American Numismatic Association at March 31, 1980 and the results of its operations and changes in its fund balances for the ten months then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles which, except for the change with which we concur, in the methods of accounting described in Note 5 of the financial statements, have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Donations

In addition to the outstanding cash support shown this past fiscal year to the Building Fund, ANACS, and ANA Scholarship Fund, members continued to enhance the museum and library collections with donations of material, often including rare or unusual items.

The ANA museum received over $400,000 worth of fine coins, paper money, medals and other exonomia this past year, a record amount largely attributable to the donation of the fabulous A.K. Berry Collection of Dollar Mint Errors. Dr. Berry of Alhambra, California, began collecting major dollar errors in 1971 and spent the next eight years searching for the best specimens in his specialty. The idea for presenting them to the ANA museum came from the many people who viewed the prize-winning collection at shows around the country and said, "These beautiful coins belong in a museum." With the official ribbon cutting by Dr. Berry during the ANA's 1980 summer seminar, a representative selection of planchet errors, striking errors, multiple strikes and off metal or wrong planchets from the Berry collection is now on display in the Stack's Galleries.

Adding to the museum's inventory of Colonial material was a donation of 84 Connecticut Colonial Cents from Richard Ulbrich of Cheshire, Connecticut, and a genuine Continental Dollar from Byron Johnson of Seattle, Washington. Ron Hyre of Akron, Ohio, contributed a group of U.S. Large Cents, and ancients collector Mendel Peterson sent his second donation of Egyptian coins of Ptolemy V, VI, and VII. Another addition to the museum's ancients holdings was perhaps the year's most unusual donation. Jack Klausen of Indio, California, gave the ANA a group of Chinese coins which included three rare money trees, multiple coin castings still attached to the casting sprues.

Roy Pennell's gift of six intaglio plate proofs for the Confederate States of America is also of great artistic and historic interest. Printed on heavy stock, these reproductions were probably presented to Confederate dignitaries.

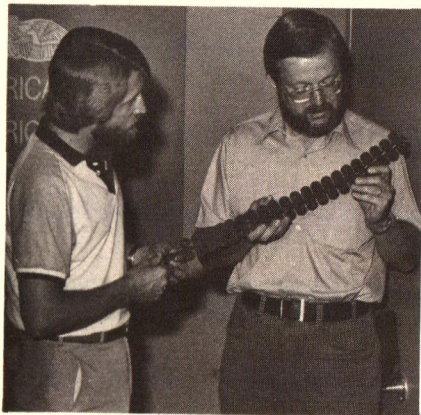

Two of the year's most notable donations tragically must wait for the completion of the ANA building addition before they can be placed on display. The Arthur Braddan Coole Library, acquired through the diligent efforts of Jack Klausen and Edward C. Rochette, represents a lifetime of study in Chinese history and numismatics. When the library is expanded, this rare collection will be maintained intact as a tribute to Rev. Coole and his many contributions to numismatic knowledge. Also sitting in storage due to the current lack of space is a printing press, once used for printing obsolete bank notes and now part of the ANA museum collection thanks to Robert Korver of Los Angeles.

Along with the Coole Library, the ANA received several other significant additions to its rare book collection. ANA member Dott. Giacomo Barnao of Genoa, Italy, donated a copy of La Moneta Italiana Un Secolo Dal 1870, a beautiful publication on Italian coins and paper money. During the St. Louis convention, former ANA governor Byron Johnson presented to the library a collection of O.P. Eklund's own catalogs of his collection of copper coins of the world. The workmanship of these catalogs is fascinating in that they were handwritten by Eklund, and two have supplements containing meticulous pencil rubbings of some of the coins.

Most recently the library was thrilled by a magnificent donation from Herb Bergen, ANA building fund chairman and former ANA president. Three books which he presented were from his private collection. Kunstliche und Aigentliche Bildtmussen der Rhömischen Keyseren, printed in 1558, features woodcuts of the Roman emperors unusually printed white on black. Another title, Iconografia Cioe Disegni d'Imagini de Famofisfimi Monarchi..., was published in Rome in 1669 and contains beautiful engravings of various people from antiquity. The third book is a copy of M.W. Dickeson's 1859 American Numismatological Manual. Herb also contributed funds for the library to purchase four books from G. Frederick Kolbe which helped to fill the library's gap in books covering the coinage of medieval Europe.

Election 1979

One of the first announcements made during the St. Louis convention, which many ANA members had been eagerly anticipating, was the 1979 election results. The election featured a new procedure whereby candidates ran for a specific numbered seat, of which four were for a four year term and five were for a two year term.

A total of 29,254 ballots were mailed to voting members who in turn cast 12,842 ballots. Of the returned ballots 4%, or 563, were voided for various valid reasons, leaving a net ballot count of 12,279 or a 42% election return.

The results of the election voting were as follows:

Amendments to the ANA Bylaws

The Bylaw amendments adopted during the 1979 St. Louis Convention and the 1980 Albuquerque Midyear Convention may be summarized as follows:

1. In St. Louis the former Board, by a five-to-four vote, rescinded the numbered-seat, staggered-term election procedure. Pursuant to the recommendation of the President, the current Board unanimously adopted a resolution for the submission of a questionnaire on this subject to the membership. The completed questionnaire disclosed a vote in favor of numbered seats of 4,528 to 4,131, and a vote in favor of staggered four-year terms of 6,083 to 2,573. During the Albuquerque Midyear Convention, the current Board followed the recommendations of the majority of the members who had submitted questionnaires and voted to reinstate the numbered-seat, staggered-four-year-term procedure.
2. During the St. Louis Board meetings, the former Board, by a five-to-four vote, revoked the provision of the Bylaws providing for two publications in The Numismatist of Bylaw amendments that affect the structure of the Board of Governors or the basic operation of the Association. President George D. Hatie submitted an alternative publication provision to the Board during the February, 1980 Board meetings which was unanimously adopted. This provision clearly states that any proposed Bylaw amendment that would affect the voting rights of the members of the Association, the eligibility for office or the structure of the Board of Governors must be published in The Numismatist or questionnaires with respect to such proposed amendment must be submitted to the members. The new Bylaw provision corrects all of the ambiguities and defects which characterized the former provision.
3. In St. Louis the Bylaw provision which prohibited any member from publishing or distributing any election campaign advertising material "containing one or more names and/or pictures of ANA members without their consent" was rescinded. This provision was replaced by a provision which forbids publication of "any printed paid advertisement promoting any person's candidacy in an ANA election without that person's consent."
4. The Bylaw provision precluding an elected officer or governor from receiving the Wayne Raymond award or the Heath Literary Award was rescinded during the St. Louis Convention.
5. In Albuquerque, the following clarifying amendments were made in the election procedure:
 - (a) In determining the duration of an incumbent's seniority, for the purpose of establishing the time for declaring his numbered seat, all periods of time during which such candidate has served as a member of the Board of Governors shall be included.
 - (b) A Governor who wishes to become a candidate for the office of President or Vice President at the expiration of the second year of his four-year term, must first resign as Governor, in which event his successor will be elected at the election at which such Governor is a candidate for President or Vice President. This amendment does not apply to Governors elected at the 1979 election.

NUMISMATIC VIGNETTES

by Glenn B. Smedley

■ In attempting to ascertain certain facts about one of Victor D. Brenner's little-known creations, it was important for me to get in touch with a historical association in an east coast state. Inquiries located an ANA member who might know of the association and its address, so I explained my problem to him. No one could have been more cooperative than member Spies was. He visited the not faraway Monmouth County Historical Association and obtained copies of certain records pertaining to the Brenner piece and even obtained photos of it for me.

This little news item is intended to prove that there are unselfish and helpful numismatists around. When I offered to at least reimburse his expenses, he replied (in part) "It was a treat to have been of some small help to you, and I hope you have more projects requiring legwork in the Garden State."

Further evidence: Member Homren, whom I met when he visited ANA headquarters, later reported the presence in a Pittsburgh public building of two Brenner plaques of which I have never seen mention. And he, also, sent me excellent photos.

Thank you, gentlemen.

■ "In the adjoining forests, game was then plentiful at all times. Chickens could be bought for six cents and turkeys for twenty-five cents. Guitar lessons were twenty-five cents each and vocal music lessons could be had for ten. Barter was still universal. No gold coins were in circulation, and the common specie along the Ohio was still British and Spanish silver. For small change, Spanish dollars were often cut into quarters, eighths and sixteenths. These were known as 'bits,' 'two-bits,' or 'fo-pence' pieces. A 'fip' was equal to five cents, and it was common to hear a price of 'a fip-and-a-bit' quoted."

These are excerpts from Midas of the Rockies by Frank Waters. Reference is to the summer of 1848 when the country's hero was General Winfield Scott, for whom the newborn son of Myron Stratton was named. Never let it be known in Colorado Springs if you are so uninformed as not to know that Winfield Scott Stratton, a part-time carpenter there from 1872 to 1891, struck it rich "just one mile straight up and eighteen miles due west" on Independence Day, 1891, and was soon the wealthiest of the gold mining kings. Get a copy of the book and read it, and know the meaning of Byron's "It is strange but true; for truth is always stranger than fiction."

■ "I'm disenchanted because, as a collector of modest means, I can no longer afford (pieces) of even middling rarity. Inflation is one reason, but I'm persuaded that speculation is a bigger one. Much of that speculation is by non-collectors.

"Affluence goes hand in hand with this. There is still a huge amount of disposable income in this nation, and a lot of people are throwing it around. It used to be a big deal to spend $1000 on one (piece). Not anymore. And the market follows the usual economic laws. Dealers charge as much as their customers will pay."

Sound familiar? Many coin collectors would agree. The above is quoted from an item by Helmuth Conrad in the Chicago Tribune, but to be completely accurate, change my parenthetical words "pieces" and "piece" to "stamps" and "stamp." Of course, stamp collectors can still have fun with cancelled specimens at very little expense. Philatelist Conrad didn't mention this, possibly because he too is motivated by profit making.

COINS OF THE INTERREGNUM

Sede Vacante Issues of the Papal Mints

by

Dr. Thomas F. Fitzgerald,

Following the short but brilliant 2 year pontificate of Clement IX, sede vacante coins were again issued under the authority of Cardinal Barberini, now serving as camerlengo for the fourth successive interregnum. All these 1669-70 coins were minted in Rome.

ROME MINT, 1669

4 Scudi, 2 Scudi, Scudo (gold),

Scudo (silver), Testone, Giulio, Grosso & Mezzo Grosso—The gold and silver coins of the vacancy of 1669 bear similar obverses and reverses. The cardinal's arms, keys, pavilion, etc. and legend with the Roman date appear on the obverses. The reverses show the dove with rays and tongues of fire. The inscription ILLVXIT ILLVCESCAT ADHVC (He has given light) is from a verse which goes on to say "may He continue to give light," another prayer beseeching the guidance of the Holy Spirit. The silver coins carry the arms of the Rome mint between ROMA.

Cardinal Camerlengo
Paluzzo Paluzzi-Altieri

Originally Paluzzi degli Albertoni, this camerlengo was born to a Roman family in 1623 and served the Church for many years with distinction before being made a cardinal under Alexander VII in 1664. At the conclave following the death of Clement IX, Emiliero Altieri, eighty years of age and only recently elevated to a cardinal, was elected pope and chose the name Clement X. As the new pope's nephew, Cardinal Paluzzi assumed a great deal of power as secretary of state under the elderly pontiff, causing the Roman populace to say that the government of the Papal State was left to the cardinal. Since Clement X was the last male of the Altieri family, the cardinal transmitted the family name and belongings in 1670 with the marriage of his brother Gaspare Albertoni to Laura Caterina of the Altieri family. Paluzzi then adopted the Altieri arms. As the cardinals met in 1676 to elect a successor to Clement X, coins were issued during the interregnum from the mints at Ferrara and Rome. Cardinal Paluzzi-Altieri died in 1698.

FERRARA MINT, 1676

Mezzo Baiocco &

Quattrino—Only copper coins were issued from Ferrara in 1676 bearing the arms of the city of Ferrara. Above the city's emblem are the crossed keys, pavilion and SEDE VACANTE. The name of the city appears on three lines on the reverses with FER on top, RARI in the center and AE on the bottom. The date 1676 is below.

ROME MINT, 1676

Scudo, Testone, Giulio, Grosso

& Mezzo Grosso—All the silver coins from the mint at Rome are similar. The arms of Cardinal Paluzzi-Altieri, keys, pavilion, etc.

including the date MDCLXXVI are on the obverses. The reverses again feature the dove with rays and fire. The legend is DABITVR VOBIS PARACLETVS (the Holy Spirit will be given you when the Paraclete has come), John 16:13. The minute arms of Monsignor Giuseppe Renato Imperiali, president of the Rome Mint, appear between ROMA at the bottom. The inscription on the testone and grosso, MENTES TVORVM VISITA, is taken from a prayer to the Holy Spirit, "Visit the minds of Thy faithful." The legend on the giulio and mezzo grosso is DOCEBIT VOS OMNIA (He will teach you all things). The rest of the verse continues, "and bring all things to your mind," John 14:26.

Pope Innocent XI reigned from 1676 to 1689. During the interregnum following his death, coins were emitted under the camerlengo, again Cardinal Altieri, from the mint at Rome.

ROME MINT, 1689

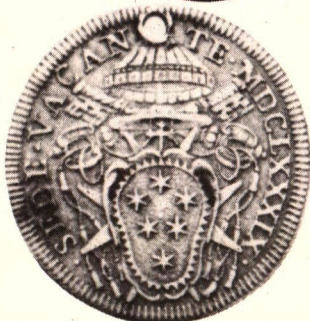

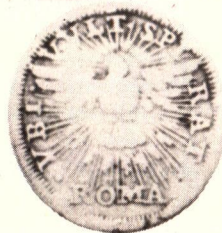

4 Scudi, Scudo (silver), Testone, Giulio, Grosso & Mezzo

Grosso—The gold and the larger silver coins are similar; as was the custom, the arms of Cardinal Paluzzi-Altieri, pavilion and Roman date may be seen on the obverses. The reverses convey the dove, completely surrounded by rays. The inscription reads EMITTE SPIRITVM TVVM (send forth Thy Spirit), Psalm 103:30. The complete text is, "Send forth thy Spirit; they are created," a reference to the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the apostles. The tiny arms of Monsignor Giuseppe D'Asta, president of the Rome Mint, appear at the bottom.

The obverse of the testone is

Scudo, 1689

Giulio, Testone and Scudo, 1689

similar to the scudo. The legend on the reverse reads ACCENDE LVMEN SENSIBVS (kindle a light for our senses) from a hymn entitled "Aeterne Rerum Conditor." The smaller silver coins have obverses similar to the larger scudo. The inscription is different, however: VBI VVLT SPIRAT (He [Holy Spirit] breathes where He will).

Already eighty years old when chosen as pope, Alexander VIII lived just sixteen months after his coronation. For the third time, Cardinal Altieri issued vacancy coins. Money for the interregnum was also minted at Bologna, a custom that was to continue with every vacancy from 1691 to 1831 with the exception of 1758.

BOLOGNA MINT, 1691

Lira & Murajola da 2

Baiocchi—The silver lira and billon 2 baiocchi coins are alike. The obverses, as was the case with those from Bologna in 1667, carry both the arms of the city and those of Cardinal Benedetto Pamphil, the legate of Bologna. The two arms are surmounted by the crossed keys, pavilion, etc. and the date 1691. The reverses again show the kneeling figure of the city's patron saint, St. Petronius.

ROME MINT, 1691

2 Scudi, Giulio, Grosso & Mezzo

Grosso—The coins from Rome have a similar design with the arms of Cardinal Altieri joining the keys, pavilion, etc. and the Roman date. The reverses bear the dove with rays, tongues of fire, and clouds. The inscription DA RECTA SAPERE is from a prayer to the Holy Spirit, "May we correctly understand." This legend was first employed on the sede vacant coins of 1667. The tiny arms of Monsignor Ottaviano Corsini, the president of the Rome Mint, appear at the bottom.

Testone—The obverse of the testone is almost identical to the other coins of this vacancy. There are minor varieties of the reverse, particularly in terms of ornamentation. The reverse legend reads DOCEBIT ET SVGGERET (He will teach and bring together). This is taken from the same source as the inscription used in 1667, and the complete verse is, "He will teach you all things, and bring all things to your mind," John 14:26.

Cardinal Camerlengo Giovanni Battista Spinola

Spinola was born in 1615, the son of Francesco Maria from a powerful Genovese family. He was archbishop of Genoa and in 1681 was named the governor of Rome at which time he was raised to a cardinal by Innocent XI. As the camerlengo, Cardinal Spinola issued coins following the death of Innocent XII in 1700. He died in 1704.

BOLOGNA MINT, 1700

Lira & Murajola da 2

Baiocchi—Repeating the denominations issued during the vacancy of 1691 from Bologna, silver lira and billon 2 baiocchi coins were minted during the interregnum of 1700.

The obverses present the arms of Cardinal Ferdinando D'Adda and those of the city of Bologna together with the keys, etc. Similar to the 1691 coins, the reverses use the figure of St. Petronius.

ROME MINT, 1700

Scudo (gold)—The gold scudo has the arms of Cardinal Spinola, keys and pavilion. The reverse shows a beautiful radiant dove high on the clouds with the inscription DOCEBIT VOS OMNIA (He will teach you all things), John 14:26. This legend was first employed on the sede vacante coins of 1676. Below may be found the small arms of Monsignor Gianni Battista Anguisciola, the president of the Rome Mint.

Scudo (silver)—The large silver scudo is similar to the gold coin on the obverse. There are two minor varieties of the obverse, the difference being the ornamentation and presentation of the cardinal's arms. The reverse displays the dove, surrounded by clouds and rays. Below is ANNO IVBIL (Jubilee Year) which is divided by the tiny arms of Monsignor Anguisciola. The year 1700, in addition to being a period of an interregnum, was also a Jubilee Year, a tradition observed by the Church for six centuries. The legend states NON VOS RELINQVAM ORPHANOS (I will not leave you orphans) from the verse "I will not leave you orphans, I will come to you," John 14:18.

Testone—The obverse of the silver testone is similar to the scudo. There are two varieties of the reverse. The first shows a dove with a semi-circle of fire tongues below and with rays above. The inscription is PARACLETUS ILLUMINET (may the Paraclete [Holy Spirit] enlighten). The second variety is almost the same in design but the legend reads VADO ET VENIO AD VOS (I go and I will come to you).

Giulio—The obverse of the giulio is like the scudo. There are two distinct reverse designs. The first shows the dove looking to the left. The second variety shows a dove, with its head at the bottom as if landing. The inscription on both varieties is identical. It reads PATER QVI MISIT ME TRAHET EVM (the Father who sent me will draw him). The complete verse is, "No man can come to Me, except the Father who hath sent Me. Draw Him; and I will raise him up in the last day." John 6:44.

Cardinal Camerlengo Annibale Albani

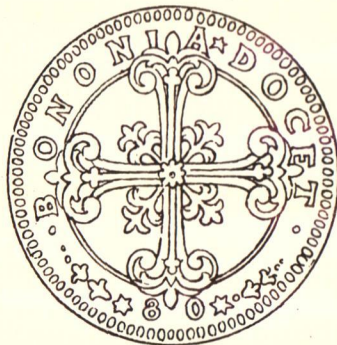

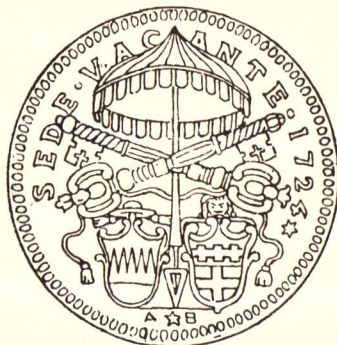

Born in Urbino in 1682, Annibale Albani was a nephew of Clement XI. He was papal nuncio to Germany and archbishop of Naples before being named a cardinal in 1712. The struggle between France and Spain on one hand, and Austria on the other, began to command the full attention of the papacy as all parties had territories in Italy. Albani was deeply involved in these affairs, having served in numerous diplomatic positions and missions. He obtained the post of camerlengo in 1719 and served during four successive interregnums. Cardinal Albani died in Rome in 1751.

BOLOGNA MINT, 1721

40 Bolognini—A large, silver coin originally called di Baiocchi quaranta and commonly referred to as 40 bolognini was released from Bologna in 1721.

The obverse, as was the custom from the university-city, shows both the arms of the legate

80 Bolognini, 1724

Cardinal Curzio Origo on the left and the city of Bologna to the right. The arms are surmounted by the crossed keys and the pavilion. A small AB appears at the bottom referring to the mint engraver at Bologna, probably Angelo Brazzanelli. The reverse carries a large cross with the inscription BONONIA DOCET (Bologna teaches), 1721 and 40 indicating the value of 40 bolognini.

ROME MINT, 1721

2 Scudo $\wp$ Scudo—The gold coins bear the arms of the camerlengo, Cardinal Albani, keys, etc. and the Roman date. The reverse pictures the dove surrounded by rays and tongues of fire. The inscription reads VBI ERANT SEDENTES (where they were sitting). The complete verse is, "And suddenly there came a sound from Heaven as of a mighty wind coming, and it filled the whole room where they were sitting," Acts 2:2. At the bottom is the tiny arms of Monsignor Pietr' Antonio Molar, president of the Rome Mint.

Testone—The obverse of this silver coin is similar to the gold coins of this date while the reverse shows the dove with the legend NON VOS RELINQVAM ORPHANOS (I will not leave you orphans), John 14:18. This inscription was first seen on the sede vacante coins of 1700.

After the short three year pontificate of Innocent XIII coins were struck during the vacancy in 1724, again from the mints at Bologna and Rome.

80 Bolognini—A large silver crown of 80 bolognini shows the arms of the legate Cardinal Tommaso Ruffo on the left and those of Bologna to the right with the keys and pavilion above. The reverse bears the now familiar large cross found on coins from Bologna.

20 Bolognini (lira)—This smaller silver coin carries an obverse design like the 80 bolognini piece. The reverse, however, shows the lion of Bologna standing majestically on its hind legs and holding the city's banner. This design is common for coins from Bologna.

Murajola da 2 $\wp$ 4

Baiocchi—The four and two bolognini coins struck in billon carry the same obverse designs as the larger silver coins from this mint. The reverses bear the figure of the patron saint, St. Petronius. The inscription S. PETRONIUS

Scudo, 1724

BON. PROTE identifies St. Petronius, the protector of Bologna.
ROME MINT, 1724

Scudo (gold)—The gold scudo of 1724 issued from Rome has the arms of Cardinal Albani, keys, etc. and the Arabic date 1724. The reverse shows the dove, completely encircled by rays and tongues of fire along with the inscription DA RECTA SAPERE taken from a prayer to the Holy Spirit. "May we correctly understand" begins this petition to God. This same legend was also used on the sede vacante coins of 1667 and again in 1691.

Scudo (silver)—The large silver crown bears a magnificent rendition of Albani's arms, keys, etc. but without a date on the obverse. The reverse reveals a small dove surrounded by splendid rays and clouds. At the bottom, dividing the Roman numerals, are the minute arms of Monsignor Mario Bolognetti, president of the Rome Mint. The inscription is NE SCIT TARDA MOLIMINA (He does not endure slow enterprises), perhaps a suggestion for the cardinals to have a short conclave. There is also a small "H" at 7 o'clock on the reverse denoting one of the famous family of papal engravers, Ermenigeldo Hamerani.

Mezzo Scudo, Testone, &

Giulio—The obverses of these smaller silver coins are similar to the silver scudo except the Roman date appears on the obverses. The reverses have a small dove with the usual rays and fire. The legend reads MENTES TVORVM VISITA (visit the minds of Thy [faithful]), a prayer to the Holy Spirit. The small arms of the mint president also appear. The legend on the reverse of the testone is NON VOS RELINQVAM ORPHANOS (I will not leave you orphans), first seen on the coins of 1700 and again in 1721. The inscription on the giulio is DA QVIETA TEMPORA (give peaceful times), a reference to "The God of peace shall be with you," Phil. 4:9.

Following the pontificate of Benedict XIII, Cardinal Albani again served as camerlengo during the vacancy of 1730. As before, coins were issued from Bologna and Rome.

BOLOGNA MINT, 1730

Lira—A silver lira coin worth 20 bolognini and bearing the arms of a new legate, Cardinal Giovanni Battista Spinola, and the city of Bologna was released at this time. The shaft of the pavilion divides the letters M & P, the initials of the mint engraver believed to be Matteo Pignoni. The reverse shows the famous lion of Bologna standing erect on its hind legs, similar to the coin of 1724. The date and denomination also appear on the reverse.

Zecchino, 1740

4 and 2 Bolognini—The smaller billon coins are similar on the obverses to the lira piece just described, with the date appearing on the obverse. The reverses show the figure of the patron saint, St. Petronius, and the city of Bologna.

ROME MINT, 1730

2 Scudi—The gold 2 scudi coin from Rome carries the arms of Albani, keys, etc. and the Roman date. The reverse design depicts a dove surrounded by rays which extend to the edge of the coin. The tiny arms of Monsignor Bolognetti are at the bottom. The legend reads LVMEN SEMITIS MEIS (light for my paths).

Zecchino—The small gold zecchino bears the arms, keys, etc. of Cardinal Albani. There is, however, a major break with tradition, for the coin shows the dove perched at the very top of the pavilion with rays descending over the pavilion. The inscription reads ZECCHINO ROMANO—1730. The reverse shows a figure in the Heavens, symbolizing the Church, with a cross, etc. and to the side a tabernacle. This design was to be utilized for many years on these gold coins and later on the larger silver scudi.

Testone—The silver testone's obverse is similar to the two scudi gold coin of this date. However, the reverse carries a different legend, IN IPSO EDOCTI ESTIS (you will be learned in Him).

Giulio—The smaller silver giulio is similar to the 2 scudi gold coin.

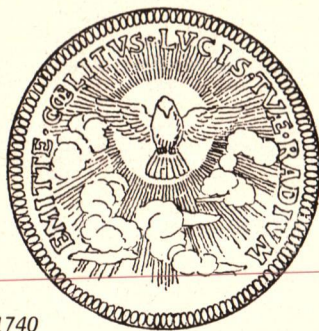

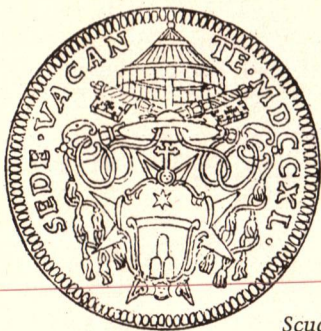

For the fourth consecutive interregnum, Cardinal Albani was camerlengo following the death of Clement XII in 1740. Again coins were issued from the mints at Bologna and Rome.

BOLOGNA MINT, 1740

Zecchino—Only one denomination, a gold zecchino, was minted at Bologna during this vacancy. The very ornate arms of the legate, Cardinal Spinola, and those of the city, almost covering the crossed keys and pavilion, are found on the obverse. The reverse shows the familiar lion holding the banner and BON DOCET ZECCHINO.

ROME MINT, 1740

2 Zecchini & Zecchino—The obverses of the gold coins have the arms of Albani, keys, etc. and the inscription NVTANTIA CORDA TV DIRIGAS (direct our wavering hearts) from "And the Lord directs

Scudo, 1740

Baiocco, 1740 (two reverses)

your hearts," II Thess. 3:5. Again, a small dove may be seen above the pavilion. The reverses, as was first seen on the gold coin of 1730, show the symbolic figure of the Church seated in the Heavens and holding the keys and tabernacle.

Mezzo Zecchino—The first gold coin of this denomination employed as a sede vacante issue, the design is similar to the zecchino but the inscription reads VENI SAN (cte) SPIRITVS (come Holy Spirit), Psalm 17:26.

Quarto Zecchino—The small gold quarto coin bears a portrait bust of St. Peter on the obverse. The reverse conveys only the crossed keys and pavilion. The legend SEDE VAC is on two lines below the keys. The date 1740 is divided by the top of the pavilion.

Scudo—The large silver scudo features the arms of Cardinal Albani, keys, pavilion, etc. and the Roman date on the obverse. The reverse bears the dove above the clouds, surrounded by rays. The inscription is EMITTE COE LITVS LVCIS TVAE RADIVM (send forth a ray of Thy heavenly light) from a petition to the Holy Spirit.

Giulio—The design of the obverse and reverse of the silver giulio is similar to the scudo. The legend, however, is identical to that found on the gold zecchino VENI SANCTE SPIRITVS (come Holy Spirit).

Grosso—Although there are numerous minor varieties of the silver grosso for this vacancy, the designs of the obverses and reverses are similar to the giulio. The reverse legend on all the varieties reads ILLIVMINET CORDA NESTRA (may He illuminate our hearts) from a prayer to the Holy Spirit.

Baiocco & Mezzo Baiocco—For

the first time since copper coins were minted at Ferrara during the vacancy of 1676, copper coins were struck for this interregnum. The obverses are the same as the silver coins already described. The reverses show the denomination, date and mint on three lines. For example, the baiocco reads VN BAIOTTO ROM and 1740. This legend, enclosed in a wreath, covers almost the entire field. There are three distinct varieties of this reverse, including one with a cartouche.

Cardinal Camerlengo
Girolamo Colonna

Descended from one of the principal Roman families, Cardinal Colonna served as camerlengo during one vacancy. Following the death of Benedict XIV in 1758, coins were issued only from the mint at Rome. Colonna died in Rome in 1763.

ROME MINT, 1758

Zecchino—The gold zecchino bears the figure representing the Church identical to the gold coins of 1730 and 1740, with the keys, tabernacle plus SEDE VACANTE and the date. The reverse shows the arms of Cardinal Colonna, crossed keys, etc. with the tiny dove at the top of the pavilion. The inscription reads VBI VVLT SPIRAT (He breathes where He will). This statement was first seen on the vacancy coins of 1689.

Scudo, Mezzo Scudo & Quinto Di Scudo—The silver coins of this date bear the arms of Cardinal Colonna, keys, pavilion and the Roman date. The reverses depict the dove, surrounded by rays with some clouds above. The legend, identical to the gold zecchino, is VBI VVLT SPIRAT, with the denomination at the bottom separated by the tiny arms of Monsignor Francesco D'Elei, president of the mint at Rome. The quinto di scudo was utilized for the first time as a denomination for sede vacante issues.

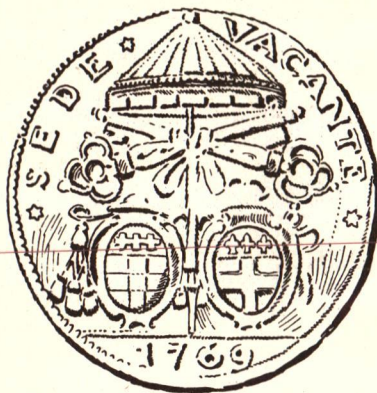

Grosso—The small silver grosso has the same obverse as the larger silver coins of this date, but the Roman date has been replaced by the Arabic numerals on the reverse.

Cardinal Camerlengo Carlo Rezzonico

Rezzonico, a Venetian, was born in 1724 and made a cardinal by his uncle Clement XIII in 1758. He served as camerlengo after the death of Clement XIII in 1769 and again during the interregnum of 1774-75 following the death of Clement XIV. He died in 1799.

BOLOGNA MINT, 1769

40 Bolognini—The obverse of this silver coin from Bologna bears the arms of the cardinal legate, Lazaro Opizio Paliavicini, and the city of Bologna, along with the crossed keys and pavilion. The reverse carries the traditional large cross common to coins from the Bologna mint, the familiar inscription BONONIA DOCET, plus the engraver's initials MP for Matteo Pignoni.

40 Bolognini, 1769

ROME MINT, 1769

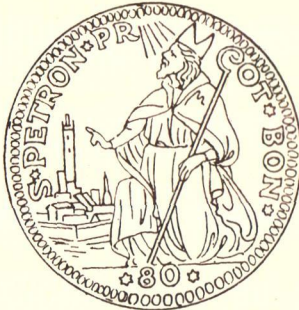

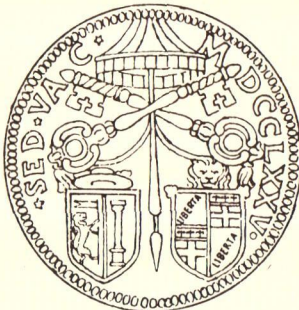

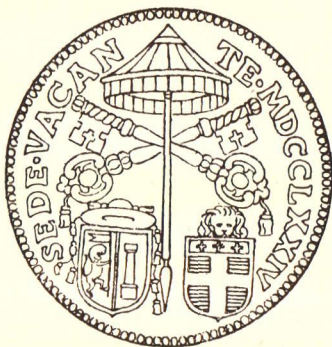

Zecchino—The gold zecchino bears the arms of Cardinal Camerlengo Rezzonico, keys, etc. on the obverse. The reverse shows the familiar figure symbolic of the Church. The inscription VENI SANCTE SPIRITVS - 1769 (come, Holy Spirit), was first employed on the coins of 1740.

Quinto Di Scudo & Giulio—The silver coins from Rome of this date resemble the design of the zecchino on the obverse with the Roman date. The reverses show the dove surrounded by rays and tongues of fire, and the denomination below. The legend reads VENI SANCTE SPIRITVS, the same as that of the gold coin.

Following the death of Clement XIV in 1774, coins were again issued from the mints at Rome and Bologna during the interregnum.

BOLOGNA MINT, 1774

80 Bolognini—A large silver crown of 80 bolognini was minted at Bologna. There are, however, two varieties of this denomination. Pope Clement XIV died on

80 Bolognini, 1774 and 1775

September 22, 1774. The conclave lasted 4½ months before Pius VI was selected, and as a result two crowns were struck at Bologna dated 1774 and 1775. The obverse of the 1774 variety contains the arms of Antonio Colonna Branciforte, the legate, and those of the city of Bologna, keys, etc. plus the Roman date. The reverse shows the kneeling figure of the patron saint, St. Petronius, along with his name and denomination. The 1775 variety again shows the arms of the legate with a different stylized arms for the city. The legend is abbreviated to SED VAC. The reverse of this 1775 variety has a different figure of the saint with the city below the figure.

ROME MINT, 1774

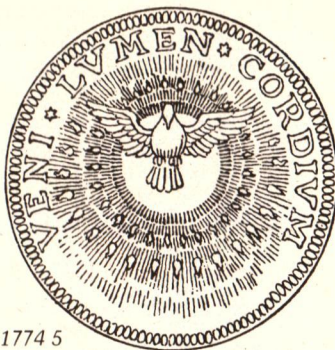

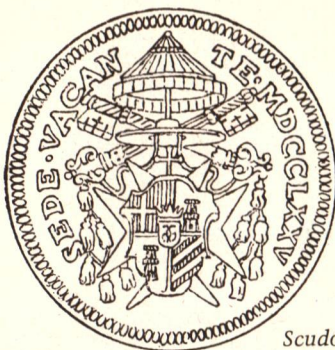

Zecchino—The gold zecchino bears the arms of Cardinal

Rezzonico, with the keys, pavilion, etc. The reverse conveys a figure depicting the Church. The inscription is VENI LVMEN CORDIVM—1774 (come Oh Light of Hearts), referring to the Holy Spirit.

Mezzo Scudo, Quinto Di Scudo and Giulio—The silver coins from Rome are similar to the zecchino, but the Roman date has been substituted for the Arabic numbers. The reverses show the dove surrounded by rays, with the denomination at the bottom. The legends are identical to the gold coin just described.

Cardinal Camerlengo Bartolomeo Pacca

Bartolomeo Pacca was born at Benevento in 1756. He was appointed nuncio at Cologne by Pius VI in 1785. Cologne was, at that time, the center of anti-Roman agitation. Pacca was made a cardinal in 1801 and named pro-secretary of state in 1808 by Pius VII. When Napoleon forced a change in the government of Rome in 1809, Pope Pius, along with Pacca, was arrested and taken to France and Savona. He returned to Rome with Pius in 1814 and was appointed camerlengo. He died at Rome in 1844. Following the death of Pius VII, the tradition of issuing sede vacante coins was resumed.

BOLOGNA and ROME MINTS, 1823

For the first time, coin dies were prepared by the same engraver for both mints, the coins being identical in appearance with the exception of identifying mint marks. The letter "B" denotes the mint at Bologna, and "R" appears on the coins from Rome.

Doppia—The arms of Cardinal Camerlengo Pacca, along with keys and pavilion form the obverse of the gold doppia. Missing now are the arms of the city of Bologna and those of the papal legate. The small dove with rays appears once more at the top of the pavilion. The reverse has a figure of St. Peter aloft in the Heavens, giving his blessing and holding the keys in his left hand. The legend is PRINCEPS APOSTOLORVM (Prince of the Apostles), one of Peter's titles. The appropriate mint mark completes the reverse.

Scudo, Messo Scudo & Double Giulio—The silver coins are similar to the gold doppia on the obverses. The reverses carry a figure symbolic of the Church, along with the keys and tabernacle, a design employed on some sede vacante coins since 1730. The inscription reads AVXILIVM DE SANCTO (help from the Sanctuary), taken from "May He send thee help from the Sanctuary," Psalm 19:3. [Note: For the first time on sede vacante issues, both the scudo and mezzo scudo have edge lettering—IN TERRA PAX (Peace On Earth).]

Cardinal Camerlengo
Francesco Galeffi

Cardinal Galeffi was born in 1770 and created a cardinal by Pius VII in 1803 during the turbulent years of French domination and occupation under Napoleon. He served as camerlengo during two vacancies, in 1829 and following the short reign of Pius VIII in 1830. Francesco Galeffi died in Rome in 1837.

BOLOGNA and ROME MINTS, 1829

The coins are identical from both mints with the exception of the mint marks of "B" for Bologna and "R" for those struck at Rome.

Doppia—Like the gold doppia of

Mezzo Scudo and Scudo, 1829

Return of Pope Pius VII to Rome on 24 May 1814, after Napoleon's fall.

30 Baiocchi and Scudo, 1830

1823, the arms of Cardinal Galeffi, keys, pavilion and a radiant dove appear on the obverse. The reverse shows the figure of St. Peter and is identical to the issue of 1823. Below the mint mark may be found "CG," the monogram for mint engraver Giuseppe Cerbara.

Scudo & Mezzo Scudo—The silver coins from both mints are similar to the gold doppia on the obverse. The reverses carry a figure depicting the Church, now holding a cross and tabernacle along with the papal tiara. Like the issues of 1823, the legend is AVXILIVM DE SANCTO (help from the Sanctuary), plus the monogram of Cerbara. The same edge lettering employed on the coins of 1823 is repeated for these issues.

After the very brief pontificate of Pius VIII of less than two years, coins were again issued from the mint of Bologna and Rome during the vacancy of 1830. Gold coins were minted only at Rome.

BOLOGNA AND ROME MINTS, 1830

Doppia, Scudo & 30

Baiocchi—The gold doppia as well as the silver coins have the arms of Cardinal Camerlengo Galeffi, keys, pavilion, etc. with Roman numerals on the obverses. Below the arms is NIC CERBARA, the name of engraver Niccola Cerbara. The reverses again show the dove, returned to the reverse for the first time since 1774 and introduced to this series in 1655. Referring to the Holy Spirit, the inscription reads VENI LVMEN CORDIVM (come, Oh Light of Hearts). This legend was first seen on the vacancy coins of 1774. The value of 30 baiocchi, a new denomination for the interregnum, was equal to the old Roman testone.

Cardinal Camerlengo

Tommaso Riario-Sforza

Tommaso Riario-Sforza descended from a noble family of Savoy. The family was formed from the fifteenth century union of two families, one who settled in Bologna and the other branch in Naples. The last name of the famous Sforza family was added when Girolamo married Caterina Sforza, the illegitimate daughter of Galezzo Maria Sforza. After serving as a delegate to Macerata in 1816, Tommaso was named a cardinal in 1830 and issued coins as camerlengo following the death of Pope Gregory XVI in 1846.

ROME MINT, 1846

5 Scudi & Scudo (silver)—Only sede vacante coins from Rome were issued during the vacancy of 1846. These consisted of two denominations, a beautiful 5 scudi gold coin and a large silver scudo. Of similar design, the arms of Cardinal Camerlengo Sforza, surmounted by the keys and pavilion, are employed on the obverses. The engraver Niccolo Cerbara is identified by NIC C at the bottom of the obverses. The reverses bear the dove surrounded by rays and the inscription NON RELINQVAM VOS ORPHANOS (I will not leave you orphans), taken from "I will not leave you orphans, I will come to you," John 14:18.

On September 20, 1870, after vain attempts to persuade Pius IX to yield, Italian guns opened fire on the walls of Rome and created a breach at Porta Pia. Thus, the material holdings of the papacy of eighteen centuries were reduced to practically nothing. Yet, out of the ashes of the Papal States came the birth of modern Italy and what is today Vatican City.

Climaxing three years of negotiations between Mussolini and Cardinal Gasparri, who represented Pius XI, the Lateran Treaty was signed in 1929 creating the independent sovereign state of Vatican City. With this treaty went the right to mint and issue coins.

Cardinal Camerlengo

Eugenio Pacelli

Born in 1876, Cardinal Pacelli came from a distinguished Roman family. He had been the papal representative to Munich and Berlin between 1917 and 1929. In 1929, Pacelli was named a cardinal and appointed secretary of state of the new state of Vatican City. He visited the United States in 1936 and became Pope Pius XII in 1939, the only camerlengo to achieve this distinction. Pacelli died in 1958.

500 Lire, 1958 and 1963

Following the death of Pius XI in 1939, and under the terms of the Lateran Treaty, two denominations of sede vacante coins were minted under the authority of the camerlengo Cardinal Pacelli. Both were from the mint at Rome where all Vatican City coins are struck.

ROME MINT, 1939

10 & 5 Lire—The silver 10 and 5 lire coins are of identical design and both continued the tradition first seen in 1521 with the arms of the camerlengo. Cardinal Pacelli's arms, keys and pavilion once again appear with the famous wording SEDE VACANTE and the Roman date. A second legend, OPVS IVSTITIAE PAX (the work [fruit] of justice is peace), is incused on a ribbon at the bottom of the obverse. This is taken from "The work of justice shall be peace," Isa. 32:17. The reverses, continuing the centuries of tradition, bear the dove representing the Holy Spirit. A few rays and tongues of fire are seen as well as the name of Vatican City, STATO DELLA CITTA DEL VATICANO, and the denomination. The inscription is INFUNDE AMOREM CORDIBVS (pour love into [our] hearts), a legend introduced on the coins of 1655. In tiny letters at the bottom may be seen MISTRUZZE, the name of engraver Aurelio Mistruzzi.

Cardinal Camerlengo
Benedetto Aloisi-Masella

Pius XII, long time papal secretary of state prior to his coronation as pope, reserved for himself the diplomatic responsibilities and thus named no cardinal to the post of secretary of state. On the day after Pius XII died in 1958, a committee of cardinals at Rome chose Aloisi-Masella as camerlengo, a post he held again following the short pontificate of John XXIII.

Masella was born in Pontecavo, between Rome and Naples, in 1879 and was ordained a priest in 1902. He served as Vatican envoy to Portugal, Chile and Brazil and was called to Rome in 1946, where Pius XII named him a cardinal. Aloisi-Masella was instrumental in preparing the Second Vatican Council in 1962 and died in Rome in 1970.

ROME MINT, 1958 & 1963

500 Lire—A 500 lire silver coin, reflecting the complete loss of value of Italian coinage due to inflation, continued the tradition of sede vacante coinage displaying Cardinal Aloisi-Masella's arms, keys, etc. on the obverses. At the bottom in minute letters is GIAMPAOLI referring to Pietro Giampaoli, the engraver. The reverse shows the dove with his head toward the bottom of the coin, rays and fire. The name of Vatican City and the denomination are below the dove. The inscription reads VENI SANCTE SPIRITVS (come, Holy Spirit). This legend was first employed on the sede vacante coins of 1740 and again in 1769. The coins have edge lettering, STATO DELLA CITTA DEL

VATICANO, the name of Vatican City.

Following the relatively short but eventful reign of Pope John XXIII in 1963, another 500 lire silver coin was issued under the authority of Cardinal Camerlengo Aloisi-Masella. This coin is identical both in design and inscriptions to the coin of 1958 except for the change of the date to MCMLXIII.

Cardinal Camerlengo Jean Villot

A Frenchman, Jean Villot was born in Saint-Amat-Tallende in central France on October 11, 1905. Following studies at the Catholic Institute in Paris and in Rome at the Angelicum College, he became professor of moral theology at the Catholic University of Lyons. Villot became archbishop there in 1965 and was named a cardinal by Paul VI as he assumed the post of archbishop. In 1967 he was called to Rome to head the Congregation of the Clergy. Appointed secretary of state in 1969 and made the camerlengo a year later, he issued coins twice during the vacancies of 1978. Villot died March 9, 1978, in Rome at the age of 73.

ITALIAN STATE MINT, 1978

500 Lire—A 500 lire silver coin with Villot's arms as camerlengo was issued following the death of Paul VI. Again, the crossed keys, pavilion, etc. are seen on the obverse. Tiny stars divide the words of the legend and three more stars appear at the bottom. In tiny letters is GISMONDI for mint engraver, Tommaso Gismondi. Seen at 7 o'clock is a small monogram, "12" for the new name of the mint at Rome, Zecca Italian, the Italian State Mint. This monogram is the first mint mark to be used on papal coinage since the 19th century issues with "R" denoting the mint at Rome. The reverse bears the dove with the head pointed toward earth, accompanied by many rays and tongues of fire. The name of Vatican City and denomination are below, and the inscription is identical to that employed in 1958 and 1963; so too is the edge lettering with the name of Vatican City.

500 Lire, 1978 and September 1978

500 Lire (September)—With the shocking death of Pope John Paul I, pope only 34 days, another 500 lire silver coin was issued under the authority of Cardinal Camerlengo Villot. Although the major design and legends are identical to the first coin of 1978, there are numerous artistic differences. The September coin was designed by Nicola Morelli, who removed the stars from the design and balanced the symbols of the obverse by the legend SEDE VACANTE at the top and SEPTEMBER—MCMLXXVIII at the bottom. In tiny letters, N MORELLI, the engraver's name, appears on the left edge. The monogram for the Italian State Mint is at the bottom of Cardinal Villot's shield. The rays and fire behind the dove on the reverse form a cross; the inscription and edge lettering remain the same as the earlier coin of 1978.

The 12th Annual

At the July 13th opening of the A.K. Berry Collection of Major Dollar Errors, Dr. Berry told the audience that the idea of presenting his collection to the ANA museum came after many people who viewed the errors at shows told him, "These beautiful coins belong in a museum." Berry went on, "They [the ANA] promised to display it [the collection] intact in a prominent location with my name on it, and so they have. It will be safe here, available for all to see, to study and to enjoy."

Dr. A.K. Berry of Alhambra, California, accompanied by his wife, describes some of the dollar errors from his collection on display in the Stack's Galleries.

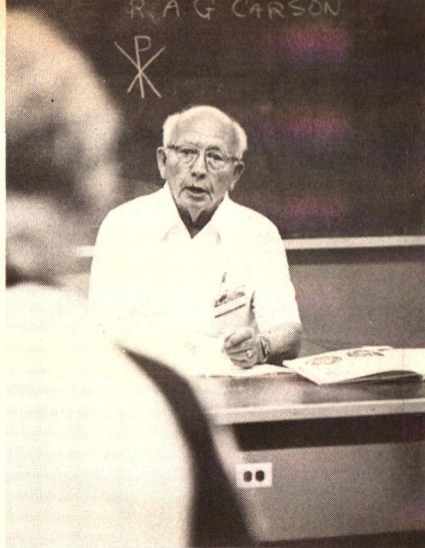

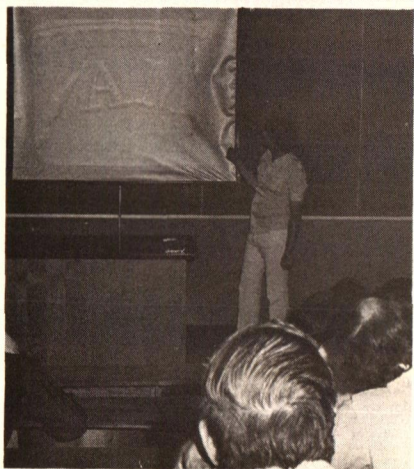

ANA Summer Seminar

With a firm commitment to meet the hobby's ever growing need for education, the American Numismatic Association opened its arms to more than 200 students for the 12th annual summer seminar held on the campus of Colorado College July 13-19. There were classes in grading, photography, ancient coins, counterfeit detection, numismatic writing, and the history of coin collecting; talks by GSA's Roy Markon, the Royal Mint's David Martin Jones, and ANA's Ken Hallenbeck; an official opening for a new museum collection; and field trips to the U.S. Denver Mint and Cripple Creek. The weather was hot for Colorado Springs and college cafeteria food always leaves something to be desired, but there was too much to do to be concerned . . . too much to learn and too many friends to make in just a few special days at ANA headquarters.

Fifteen young numismatists were able to attend this year's seminar through the sponsorship of various interested clubs, dealers, publications and the ANA scholarship fund. From left to right are: Jeffrey Daniher, Glenn W. Slifker, Michael Ruger, Thomas Krauss, Alan W. Langer, Daniel Ratner, Matt Abbott (bottom), Bill Gough (top), Michael Lapointe, John Abbott, Jr., and Paul Kroom. Not pictured are Steven Abromowitz, Greg Johnson, Michael McGivern, and Sean J. Nealon.

At the Get-Acquainted Gathering on Sunday evening, seminar participants meet their instructors and classmates for the week ahead.

"Charlie" Wolfe, believed by many to be the country's foremost expert in ancient coins, shares his interest for this specialty with students in his class.

"Red Book" editor Ken Bressett, instructor in Coin Grading, discusses a particular coin with student Hank McCall of Palm Beach, Florida.

Having passed out sample coins for grading, ANACS authenticator and grader Tom DeLorey responds to a grading analysis by one of his students.

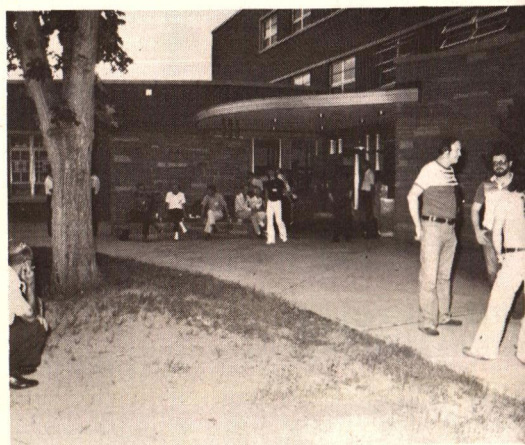

John Hunter points out a distinguishing mark on a counterfeit coin to his class in authentication.

Members of Q. David Bower's class All about Coins pose before the Victor Hotel for a photograph taken on their field trip to this historic mining district. Bowers captivated his class with tales of gold and silver, fortunes made overnight, bawdy house tokens, and the characters who roamed the West.

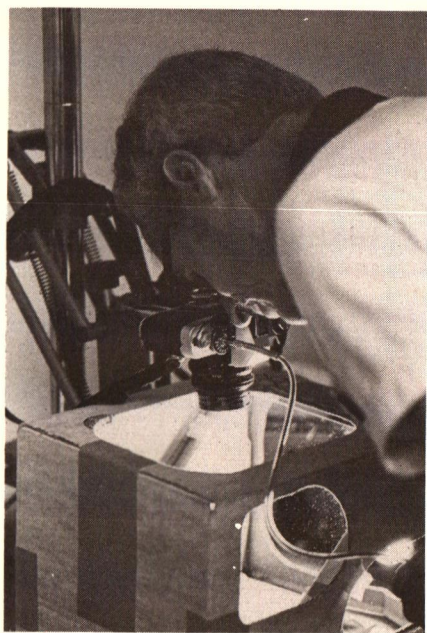

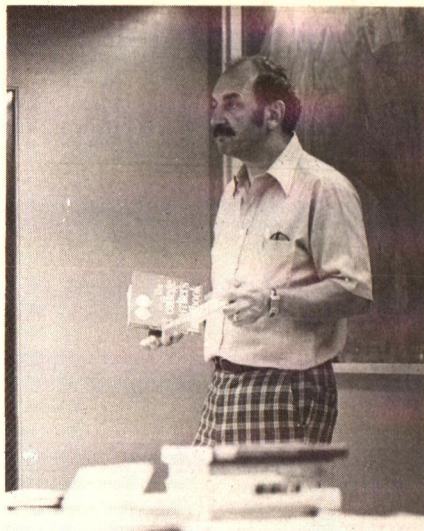

Using a hand-held magnifier, instructor and prominent error specialist William F. Fivaz studies a coin belonging to a student in his Grading class.

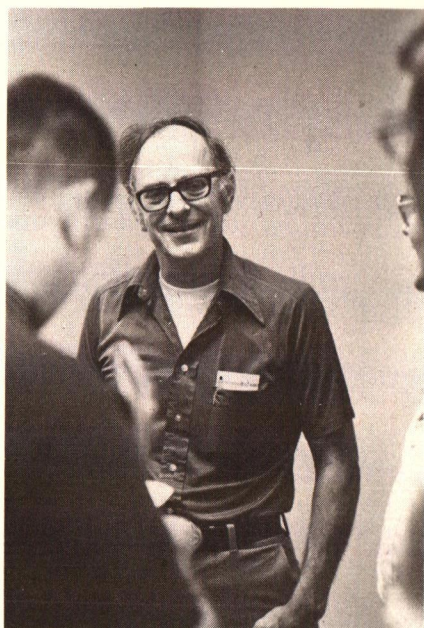

Seminarians enjoy the cool evening air outside Loomis Hall, their home on the Colorado College campus during seminar week.

Students in Numismatic Writing listen to instructor Ed Rochette describe some of the many style references which are the tools of a good writer.

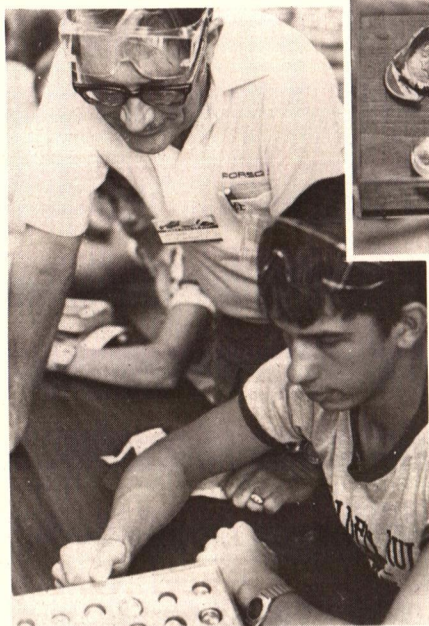

Winborne Springs of Charlotte, North Carolina, prepares to photograph a coin using a special set-up for axial lighting. By sidelighting a glass fixed at a 45° angle, creating both direct and indirect lighting on the subject, the coin's surface is reflected in the camera lens without distortion.

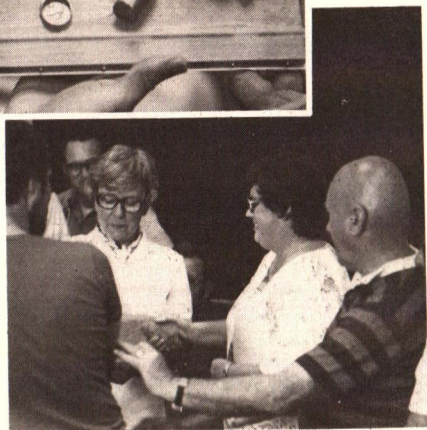

Ed Fleischmann, ANACS authenticator and one of the country's best known coin photographers, taught a limited class of ten students the problems and techniques involved in this photographic specialty.

Participants in the seminar's Thursday field trip wait outside the private entrance to the Denver U.S. Mint. Once inside they will see the minting process up close as the only group in the country allowed to tour the facility from the floor.

Robert L. Shockey of Santa Fe, New Mexico, (standing) and Paul Kromm of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin, view some of the Denver Mint's collection of outstanding mint errors as they wait for their tour to begin.

Ruthann Brettell, ANA assistant to the executive vice president, presents Denver Mint superintendent Evelyn Davidson a Certificate of Appreciation for the many hours she and her staff gave in making the seminar's tour of the Mint an event to remember.

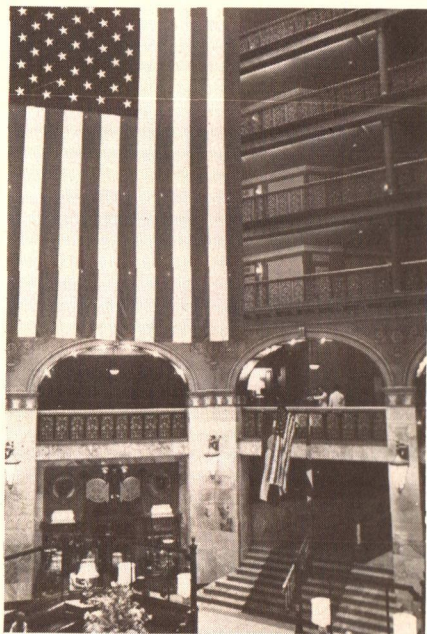

Comfortable air-conditioned buses carried field trip participants up to Denver for their special tour of the U.S. Mint.

In addition to their tour of the Mint, seminarians stopped for lunch at the historic Brown Palace in downtown Denver. Corinne Hunt, official hotel historian, gave a delightful review of the Palace's colorful past and the guests who created it.

The lobby of the historic Brown Palace, as viewed by ANA visitors to Denver, has seen many famous and unusual guests in its 88 year history, from cows and horses to Queen Marie of Romania and President Eisenhower.

At the seminar's closing graduation ceremony, Judy Stebenne, seminar coordinator and secretary to the executive vice president, rests gratefully now that the extra burden of seminar planning has been successfully completed.

Outside ANA headquarters, students and ANA personnel stop to chat over the day's events, a familiar sight during seminar week.

ANA executive vice president Ed Rochette congratulates 1980 seminarians at the closing graduation ceremonies for having completed their courses with flying colors.

Markon Explains GSA Carson City Dollar Sale

Roy Markon, commissioner of the General Services Administration's Federal Property Resources Service, the agency unit responsible for the sale of some 923,000 Carson City silver dollars, told 200 coin collectors at the ANA Summer Seminar in July that he has only one regret concerning the sale of the dollars. "I'm sorry," he said, "we didn't have the more than five million coins necessary to satisfy the demand of the American people."

The sale, oversubscribed in 10 days, offered 195,745 of the 1883-CC coins at $65 each, 428,152 of the 1884-CC coins at $60 each, and 299,390 coins offered in a mixed-year category at $45 each. The sellout is expected to net about $50 million for the U.S. Treasury.

Markon, featured speaker at the seminar, said public reaction to the sale fell sharply into two camps. Buyers who ordered and got some of the coins are giving the sale good marks, contrary to the reaction of many unsuccessful customers.

Markon reminded his audience that the February sale was not the first, but the sixth time GSA has offered the coins to the public. At the end of the fifth sale in 1974, nearly one million coins remained in inventory for lack of buyers. An advisory panel, convened by Markon in April 1979 and comprised of representatives of the coin collecting community, told the agency how to sell the leftover coins. With minor adjustments, GSA followed this advice.

Trade publications gave favorable reviews to the agency's marketing plan in November 1979, with only one weekly coin paper predicting a surplus in the large 1884-CC category. Markon said, at the time, that the prediction might come true. However, in December 1979 and early January 1980, skyrocketing silver bullion prices made front page news, and Markon equated rising public interest in the coins with rising silver prices. The agency was forced in January to cancel its original asking price for the coins.

"We could have cancelled the sale," Markon said, "but we had made a substantial investment of time, talent and money—especially money—and there would have been considerable public disappointment during a period of peak interest." Markon increased prices and started the sale on schedule.

"Stampede," according to Markon, "is the only word that adequately describes the opening days of the sale. Toll-free telephone lines, offering recorded price information, were clogged by an eager public, all seeking the same information at the same time in order to place orders." Markon said telephone traffic reached peaks only experienced by the telephone company on Christmas and Mother's Day.

In addition to all the phone calls, the Carson City project staff, comprised of eight temporary employees at GSA headquarters in Washington and less than 30 part-timers in San Francisco, generated or responded to almost two million pieces of sale-related mailings and correspondence during the past year. Markon said "a tight budget" prevented hiring additional personnel to accelerate order processing and shipping.

Markon told his audience of coin enthusiasts that recent estimates show the government needed an inventory of more than five million of the historic coins to fulfill the more than 400,000 orders submitted. However, initially fearing an undersubscription of the 1884-CC dollars, Markon approved terms and conditions for the sale which placed no limit on the number of coins a customer could order, although there was a shipping limit of 500 coins from each of the three categories during initial order processing. If coins remained at the end of the sale, the balance of larger orders would then be filled.

"If we had honored all orders as planned, we could have processed fewer orders in less time, held overhead costs to a minimum, and sped delivery of coins to customers," Markon said. "By doing so, however, some customers would have received as many as 1,500 coins, leaving fewer coins to fill smaller orders."

To make some coins available to more potential buyers, Markon set limits on the number of coins per order that could be shipped. "To meet computer programming deadlines, we set limits based upon a sampling of orders arriving during the first five days of the sale. I cut the maximum from 1,500 coins to 35 on a single order. Critics, with full benefit of hindsight, have since suggested more severe rationing plans."

The GSA commissioner said the buying public understood the necessity of raising the price of the coins in relation to rising silver prices, but he added many customers felt, when silver prices dropped drastically in March, that GSA should have lowered coins prices and issued refunds to successful buyers. "The prices were set based upon the going retail market price of the coins in early February," he said. "The latest price trends show these same coins selling on today's retail market at—or slightly above—the prices we charged for them. Under law, GSA cannot sell government property for anything less than it is worth."

Critics of the sale have also alleged the agency had a "rubber check" problem, resulting in thousands of customers receiving free coins worth "nearly $7 million." "The fact is," said Markon, "placing limits on orders left some buyers with substantial sums of money tied up and losing interest. We encouraged these people to stop payments on their checks in order to cancel orders and free their money in the most expeditious way."

In most cases the agency routinely stopped coin shipments to these customers, awarding the silver dollars to other eligible buyers. Some customers did receive coins, even refund checks, before their unpaid checks were returned by banks to the processing center. Holding shipments for as long as six weeks after depositing checks did not completely eliminate the problem. "In these cases," Markon said, "we offered customers the option of returning the coins or making prompt payment in full. So far, we've had complete cooperation from these people."

In concluding his prepared remarks, Markon said GSA offered the coins to the American public under the slogan, "The Carson City Dollars: 90 percent Silver . . . 100 percent History." "The response of the American people," he said, "resulted in a sale I would have to score as 90 percent fine and 100 percent successful."

1916-D Dime Shows Tooled Flowlines on Added Mintmark

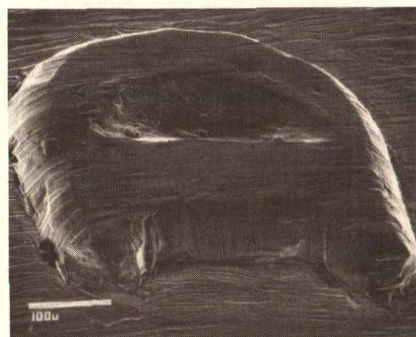

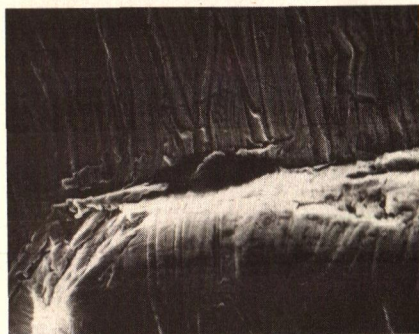

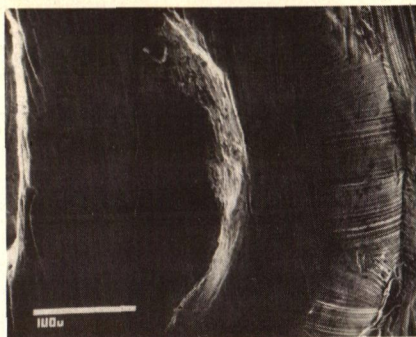

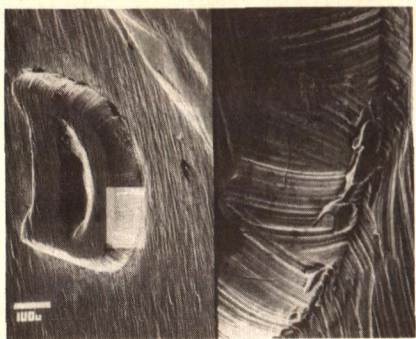

Those who attempt to separate the unwary collector and his money just never give up. As ANACS continues to inform more and more collectors and investors on how to avoid altered and counterfeit coins, the fakers are forced to change manufacturing methods to disguise their work. The newest wrinkle in altering coins is the tooling of "flowlines" on the edges of an added mintmark, as we've seen applied to a genuine 1916 dime from the Philadelphia mint.

We suspect that most people using a hand-held glass would have bought the coin without hesitation . . . it was that well done. Once we put the coin under our optical microscopes, we were certain that the mintmark had been added and that "flowlines" had been tooled onto the edges of the mintmark in an attempt to hide the addition. The added "flowlines" just didn't have the same character as the genuine flowlines elsewhere on the coin.

The final proof, at least in our estimation, came when we put the coin in our newest counterfeit detection tool, the Amray 1200B Scanning Electron Microscope, and enlarged portions of the mintmark as much as 700 times. The tooled flowlines were seen to run only at right angles to the edges of the mintmark, while the flowlines elsewhere on the same coin ran in paths radiating outward from the center of the coin. Under the optical microscopes we thought we could see a seam where the mintmark had been added; under the

S.E.M. we could positively see (and photograph) that seam. The S.E.M. also showed us a few other things. Gouged metal at the juncture of the mintmark edges and the field, for instance. And some of the flowlines on the field next to the mintmark didn't follow the same pattern as the flowlines that were created by the dies when the basic coin was struck because those odd flowlines were the result of tooling in an attempt to hide the addition of the D.

INDIAN TERRITORY AND OKLAHOMA OBSOLETE NOTES AND SCRIP, by Maurice Burgett and KANSAS OBSOLETE NOTES AND SCRIP, by Steven Whitfield. 1980. 79, 87p. Illus. Hard cover. Society of Paper Money Collectors, P.O. Box 150, Glen Ridge, NJ 07028. $13.75.

This volume is the most recent addition to the SPMC's series on obsolete notes and scrip. It is really two books bound together, one listing notes and scrip of the Indian Territory and Oklahoma and one on Kansas. Background histories of the cities and banks add interest to both these catalogs. Many of the notes are illustrated, and information given includes a description and rarity.

TERRITORIALS, A GUIDE TO U.S. TERRITORIAL NATIONAL BANK NOTES, by Peter W. Huntoon. 1980. 169p. Illus. Paper cover. Society of Paper Money Collectors, P.O. Box 150, Glen Ridge, NJ 07028. $15.

National currency has always been of special interest to the collector because of its geographical and institutional specificity. Mr. Huntoon has further refined this specialization to notes bearing the designation "Territory." Some banks, in fact, primarily in Nebraska and Colorado, continued to issue notes with this designation even after statehood. These notes are included, along with Alaskan and Puerto Rican bills. The listing contains both large and small size notes and includes charter number, city and name of the bank, design and denomination combinations on each sheet, together with the serial numbers of the sheets issued.

An illustrated catalog of Washington scrip, this volume has a minimum of information, including only denomination, date and rarity. Although additional information is brief, it is obvious that a commendable effort has been made to include every note reported whether an illustration is available or not. Arrangement is alphabetical by city or in some cases county.

THE COLLECTOR'S GUIDE TO DIE ROTATED COINS, by Doug Fariss. 1979. Unpaged. Illus. Paper cover. Innovation Enterprises, Inc., P.O. Box 8035, Newark, DE 19711. $3.

Post-1850 U.S. die rotated coins fall into the category of errors. Prior to 1850, no attempt was made by the mint to prevent rotation of the dies and thus coins of this type are not uncommon. This booklet covers U.S. coins from about 1850 to the present. Each coin is pictured with its correct design axis. Values are given for different grades and degrees of rotation, and a listing of known rotations for each coin is included.

FEATURING YOUNG NUMISMATISTS

ROMAN COIN PROJECT

by David R. Cervin, ANA 65523

Originated and administered by David R. Cervin, the Roman Coin Project is a program specially designed for junior members of the ANA to earn Roman and Byzantine coins for their activities in numismatics. Up to eight coins can be earned, four Roman coins in the initial program, and four Byzantine coins in the advanced section.

In the initial program, the first three coins can be earned from numismatic participation in three of six categories: educational presentations, exhibiting, writing, club office, show committee chairmanship, or receiving a badge in numismatics from your youth group. The fourth coin must be earned by completing the ANA's Young Numismatists Correspondence Course. In the advanced program, coin number five is earned by signing up a new ANA member, coin number six by signing up two additional members, coin number seven for the publication of at least 500 words in a major numismatic publication, and coin number eight for planning and executing an exhibit of the coins earned thus far in the program.

For further information or a Roman Coin Request Form write David R. Cervin, 6201 Adirondack, Amarillo, TX 79106.

Kathi Stearns, Stone Mountain, Georgia, writes on her Roman Coin Request Form:

"Talked to two 6th grade classes about Italy about its cities and art. For money I showed them a denarius of Marcus Aurelius and an AE 3 of Constantius II (son of Constantine the Great) who was an emperor of the Roman Empire from 337 to 361. I earned this coin by exhibiting at the ANA in St. Louis. I also showed them World War II military script, recent Italian coins from circulation, and Vatican City coins of Pope John XXIII."

Kathi has now achieved Plateau Three in the educational process of advancing in the field of numismatics. Just what are these first three plateaus? Read on.

PLATEAU ONE—Collect coins haphazardly. The collector might set aside a few 1776-1976 centennial coins because they are different, continue to "treasure" a mercury dime or a liberty nickel that came down through the family, or possibly order from the Bureau of the Mint a set of current coins. In Plateau One, however, these coins are merely gathered; they are not studied.

PLATEAU TWO—Our collector now acquires a "Red Book" and notes the many dates and mints that encompass the field of mercury dimes. He also observes vastly different mintage numbers for the various dates and mints, and the correspondingly higher values placed on the scarcer dates and better grades. He is now studying coins and is therefore approaching the status of numismatist, or more specifically numismatic-student.

PLATEAU THREE—Our scholar now has a desire to explain his/her findings to others. This is simply called teaching. Our scholar is now a true numismatist, or more specifically a numismatic-teacher. Our scholar has now achieved Plateau Three in the numismatic scale of advancement. There is really no higher plateau to aspire to in numismatics than to be a teacher.

Kathi, by imparting her numismatic knowledge to two sixth grade classes, has reached the pinnacle of numismatic satisfaction. Now wouldn't you like to do what Kathi has done? Of course you would. But, you say, Kathi is probably sixteen or maybe even seventeen, and you are only thirteen and couldn't at this young age possibly face a couple of classes. Wrong! Kathi is just twelve years old. She earned her first Roman coin shortly after her twelfth birthday, and now, some eight months later, she has Roman coin number 2. Regardless of your age, just so long as you are still a junior, you, too, can earn these coins.

NOTES AND QUERIES

Wilkinson Awarded Highest CNA Honor

Dr. John S. Wilkinson, widely known in the field of ancient Greek coins, was given the highest award of the Canadian Numismatic Association at its annual convention held in Montreal, July 23-27. The announcement was made at the annual banquet by Sheldon S. Carroll, chairman of the Board of Award.

The J. Douglas Ferguson Award, which takes the form of a 24-carat 1½ inch gold medal, was designed by internationally known artist Arnoldo Marchetti and is accompanied by a framed citation. Instituted in 1969 by J. Douglas Ferguson, honorary president of CNA, the award is presented annually to the living numismatist who has contributed most to the science of numismatics in Canada, through research, writing, publishing, or in any other manner.

Association for Texas Coin Dealers Initiated

After years of consideration and months of planning, the Texas Coin Dealers Association has finally become a reality. A statewide organization, the association is open to all Texas coin dealers and dealers in gold and silver bullion. The group anticipates an eventual membership of 150 to 200 professionals, hailing from El Paso to Texarkana, from the Panhandle to the Valley.

According to Bob Medlar, one of the founders of the association, the TCDA was established for a number of reasons. First, organizers wanted to answer the need for a working association of dealers, to police that membership and to improve and standardize professional practices within the various dealerships. Members also plan to maintain a free flow of information within the industry concerning scams, hot checks and counterfeits, among other problems. This, they hope, will allow them to better serve their customers.

"Many communities throughout the state," says Medlar, "are experiencing a rash of restrictions on buying bullion imposed by local law officials. The association plans to lobby for professional input on better laws concerning bullion purchase almost immediately. This lobby group is in addition to the political action committee the association intends to form to insure their voice is heard in governmental decisions." The group also hopes to alter state sales tax laws, thereby eliminating the state sales tax on bullion items.

For more information on the TCDA, contact Bob Medlar, 220 Alamo Plaza, San Antonio, TX 78205; (512) 226-2311.

Adelphi University Courses Lead to Certification

Because of the interest shown in the past, the Institute of Numismatic and Philatelic Studies, a division of Special Programs at Adelphi University, will again offer two 10-week courses in numismatics for the fall semester. Edward Rochette, Don Hoppe, Harry Forman, Luis Vigdor, Anthony Swiatek, David Ganz and other respected authorities in the coin field will present a broad yet specific view of coins with emphasis on the beauty, collectibility and investment potential that this field offers.

According to Stanley Apfelbaum, Director of the Institute, "No other college or university offers specialized courses in numismatics that deal with rare coins as an investment, leading to certification as a numismatic advisor (CNA)."

Classes will be held at the Adelphi University's campus on Saturday mornings, from October 4 through December 13. For further information, write the Institute of Numismatic and Philatelic Studies, Division of Special Programs, Adelphi University, Garden City, New York 11530, or telephone (516) 294-7800, ext. 7660.

Newbury Junior College Offers Numismatic Courses

Two numismatic courses will be offered this fall by Newbury Junior College at its Boston, Massachusetts, campus. "Coin Collecting for Beginners" is scheduled to begin September 22, and will meet Tuesday evenings, 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Topics to be covered in this introductory level course are history of coinage, how to buy or sell coins, selecting a dealer, coin clubs, and how coins are graded and priced.

On November 11, the College will offer "Coin Collecting—Advanced" as a six week program meeting Tuesday evenings, 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Emphasis is on grading, processing, and authentication of coins. Special topics of interest to the participants will also be incorporated into the course.

"Last spring Newbury offered a course in coin collecting and investing. The response was surprisingly strong," said R.D. Saltzberg, College provost and an active coin collector himself. Saltzberg went on to say that he has been trying for some time to have the College offer community service courses in numismatics. "If the response this fall term is as successful as last spring, then I think I can get the College to take numismatics and coin collecting as a serious subject and establish an Institute for Numismatic Studies within the Institute for Professional Studies Division."

Further inquiries or suggestions should be sent to R.D. Saltzberg, Provost, Newbury Junior College, 921 Boylston Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02115; telephone (617) 262-9350.

New Encyclopedia of Commemorative Coins Announced

FCI/Arco Publishing Company, Inc. recently announced that the long-awaited Encyclopedia of U.S. Gold and Silver Commemorative Coins 1892-1954 by Anthony Swiatek and Walter Breen is scheduled for publication this fall. The first comprehensive work ever attempted on commemorative coinage, the book is also the first collaboration between Swiatek and Breen. The volume examines proof commemoratives—including sand blast, matte, satin finish and brilliant coins—and presents exceptional in-depth coverage of gold and silver commemorative investments. An elaborate pictorial grading system with information never before published is also included in the text.

Both authors come to this project with impressive numismatic backgrounds. Swiatek is recognized as a contemporary authority in the area of silver and gold commemorative coinage. He has a column appearing regularly in Coin World and COINage magazines, writes a monthly column for the FCI/FSI Rare Coin and Stamp Advisory, and is a contributor to the official ANA Grading Standards for U.S. Coins. Breen, known as one of numismatics' most astute scholars, is a contributor to the Encyclopedia Britannica, consultant to the Smithsonian Institution, and author of the Encyclopedia of U.S. and Colonial Proof Coins 1722-1977.

The commemorative encyclopedia, hardbound and approximately 386 pages in length, is priced at $30. For information on ordering, write FCI Press, Inc., 200 I.U. Willets Road, Albertson, NY 11570; telephone (800) 645-3422.

WORLD COIN NEWS

SINGAPORE—New Issues Celebrate Chinese Lunar New Year

The Board of Commissioners of Currency in Singapore has released two coin issues to celebrate the Chinese Lunar New Year.

The first issue is a 1980 uncirculated $10 nickel coin with a mintage of 120,000 pieces. While this denomination had been previously struck in silver, the skyrocketing bullion market caused the change to pure nickel. The obverse is designed around the coat-of-arms of the Republic with the date below it and the legend "SINGAPORE" in four languages around. The reverse depicts two communication earth satellite stations and the wording "10 DOLLARS."

Also released for the first time is a $50 uncirculated silver coin. It has a composition of 50% silver, is 40.7 mm in diameter and weighs 31.1 gms. The obverse of the coin is the same as the $10 nickel coin. The reverse carries the "Financial Centre" theme reflecting Singapore's role in international finances as symbolized by major international currency signs. A special container designed to house the $50 coin has a base pad with a recess into which the coin can be pressed and held firmly in place.

For further information on these issues, contact the Singapore Mint, 249 Jalan Boon Lay, Singapore 2261.

ISLE OF MAN—A Crown for the Queen Mother

For the first time ever, coins are being struck to honor Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother; the occasion marking her 80th birthday. Approved by Tynwald, the Isle of Man's Parliament, and struck by the Pobjoy Mint of England, the issue features the standard profile of Queen Elizabeth II designed by Arnold Machin on the obverse, and a full face portrait of the Queen Mother taken from a recently officially approved photograph on the reverse.

Circulating pieces for the Queen Mother crown will be struck in cupro-nickel with a minting numbered at 100,000. In addition to the circulating version, 50,000 coins will be struck in brilliant uncirculated .500 fine silver with a retail selling price of £22 ($28.59)* A gold crown will be struck in 9 kt. gold proof and sold for £48 ($110.16)* with a mintage of 50,000 pieces, and 1,000 22 kt. gold proof coins will each be sold at a price of £130 ($298.35)*

A heavy demand for this special birthday tribute is expected. For further information, contact the Pobjoy Mint Ltd., Mint House, Oldfields Road, Sutton, Surrey, England SMI 2NW.

These prices are subject to change. The Chase Manhattan Bank exchange rate as of May 2, 1980 was used to figure the conversions.*

JAMAICA—Olympic Coins Released

Jamaica recently announced the issuance of a 1980 $25 proof silver coin and $250 proof gold coin designed to honor Jamaica's own Olympic gold medal winners. Miniature cameos of the five athletes honored appear on the reverse of the coins, while the obverse retains the traditional Jamaican Coat of Arms and the motto OUT OF MANY, ONE PEOPLE. Honored by Jamaica are Arthur Wint, winner of the 400 meters in 1948 in London and Jamaica's first gold medalist; George Rhoden, winner of the 400 meters in 1952 and a member of the winning relay team that same year; Leslie Laing, also a member of the 1600-meter winning relay team in 1952; Herbert McKenley, winner of a gold medal as a member of the 1600-meter relay team in 1952; and Donald Quarrie, gold medal winner for the 200 meters in Montreal in 1976.

The $25 coin is .500 fine silver and measures 63mm in diameter. The $250 coin is .900 fine gold and measures 26mm in diameter. Deadline for ordering these coins is September 5; however, further information may be obtained through Paramount International Coin Corp., One Paramount Plaza, Englewood, OH 45322.

FIJI — 1980 Proof Sets Released

The Central Monetary Authority of Fiji has announced the release of proof sets for 1980. The coins are to be struck by the Royal Canadian Mint in Canberra with each set consisting of six frosted polished proofs. The one and two cent pieces will be struck in bronze, with the five, ten, twenty and fifty cent coins being struck in cupronickel. Each proof set will be displayed in sealed cases. Total mintage for the proofs will be 2,500 sets.

This is only the third set of proofs issued by Fiji. The first was in 1976 with no sets being issued in 1979. No uncirculated 1980 sets will be released either.

The cost to a collector will be $40 in United States funds plus $5 for postage and handling. There is a limit of three sets per customer. To receive a set, orders along with payment should be sent to: Fiji Numismatic Distributors, Nelson Eustis, Manager, GPO Box 954, Adelaide, South Australia, 5001.

LETTERS

Member Agrees—ANA Consumer Advocate Group Needed

I read with great interest the letter from Bruce E. Pasternack, in the July issue just received, regarding overgrading. Many of us in the hobby, I'm sure, agree with Mr. Pasternack on this subject; especially those of us who have had our hard-earned money taken by those mail order dealers whose forte is false advertising.

I, too, am a novice in this great hobby. But in the few years that I have under my belt, I have come to be very wary of new advertisers (and some of the older ones too!) in the numismatic journals, after being "burned" a few times.

I commend executive vice-president Edward C. Rochette in "guaranteeing to investigate" Mr. Pasternack's complaint of a dealer's alleged wrongdoing. But I also agree with Mr. Pasternack that something "positive" and of large magnitude must be done to curtail the current overrun of high-profit/quick-buck/ wheeler-dealers in this hobby. I very much agree with the promotion of a "consumers advocate group" within ANA (similar to that of the government and/or the staff of Consumers Report Magazine) wherein coins are purchased from ads in the leading numismatic media, and reports of the findings are published. I think ANA would find that most dealers would be not only receptive to this idea, but would even subscribe to having their ads "checked." This would be an even greater asset to them to advertise that they are a "member in good standing with the consumer's advocate committee of ANA."

On a related subject, I would like to publicly lodge my complaint about all those dealers (and there are many) who place an advertisement in one of the journals only to change their prices when an order is placed from the same ad. "Volatile market" and "two weeks went by between when the ad was written and when it was published, so I must raise my prices" are sorry excuses for good advertising practice. I personally refuse to honor either of those statements. Dealers are continually aware of which coins are increasing in value. When they know that their ad won't be out for two or three weeks, they should allow for this, and advertise their prices accordingly.

I, like many of your readers, look to ANA as the leader in setting forth the direction in which numismatics will go. ANA is the voice of the coin collecting public. I feel, as Mr. Pasternack does, that ANA will be performing a valuable service to us all by addressing subjects such as these when brought to their attention. ANACS and its grading service are important, needed functions of ANA. But they do not, unfortunately, cover the ever-increasing area to which the disease of false advertising has spread.

Robert L. Benight, ANA 105301

Kudos for Thomas Elder Article

I am not moved to feint praise, nor am I given to wasting anyone's time with frivolous correspondence; however, The Numismatist and the Association are to be congratulated for publishing the two-part catalog of Thomas Elder tokens and medals by Tom DeLorey.

Tom has certainly made good sense and interesting reading out of a bewildering series of exnumia. Congratulations to the author, his photographer and editor, for a difficult job done very well, indeed!

As a former member (twice) of ANA, I am impressed. Keep up the good work.

Fred Reed

Collectors Beware

I read the letter from Mr. Irv Atkins in The Numismatist of July 1980 and was very surprised to see that the dealers need protection from the customer. I am certain that the customer is much more in need of protection from the unscrupulous dealer, particularly the mail order dealer who advertises under a P.O. Box number.

I have been an amateur collector for over 2 decades and had many sad experiences, too many to enumerate them here. There is one case I would like to mention, however: I consigned some coins to be sold at an auction, of which (in round sums) $18,000 was realized. A 20% commission—$3,600—left me a little over $14,000. Right after the auction the dealer, whom I trusted, left the country "for his health" and the new Corporation went into bankruptcy. I received a little over $6,000 and lost the rest, more than $8,000.

I mention this to put other collectors on guard so that they make certain whom they trust.

More Trouble Noted with Plastic Holders

Enclosed is a Polaroid print of a coin illustrating what vinyl can do to silver. The coin is magnified about 1.5x. It is from Singapore, 10 dollars, silver proof, 1972, Y-9, issued in a vinyl inner envelope which was sealed shut, in a hinged display box. The vinyl has apparently given off a gas in its process of decomposition which has turned the surface of the coin greenish. I am urging all of my customers (and all other collectors!) to immediately remove any coins except perhaps gold pieces from vinyl holders. I also have a Russian 20 Kopeck, 1914 BC, Y-22a, which turned greenish (in spots) in a holder with an acetate (?) window, which was apparently in the sun in a dealer's store window. My feeling is thus to avoid all plastic storage devices, at least of the non-rigid variety.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

The Numismatist cordially presents the following guidelines as encouragement for interested authors (both professional and non-professional) who are preparing manuscripts for submission to the official ANA journal.

All authors whose manuscripts are accepted and published are eligible for Health Literary Awards. These are awarded annually for articles judged to be outstanding. First and second places include engraved medals as well as cash stipends: a silver medal and $250 for first and a bronze medal and $100 for second. Third place awards are bronze medals. Those writers receiving honorable mention are awarded certificates of recognition.

Articles which offer original and comprehensive research in U.S. numismatics are eligible for the Wayte and Olga Raymond Memorial Award which carries a prize of $400 for first place and $200 for second place.

MANUSCRIPTS

The Numismatist accepts manuscripts which contain new information, constitute a distinct contribution to knowledge and are relevant to the science of numismatics. The author is responsible for all statements made in the work. Manuscripts accepted and published become the property and copyright of The Numismatist and may not be published elsewhere unless written permission is granted by both the author and the journal. Manuscripts are received with the understanding they are not simultaneously being considered by other publications.

Two complete manuscripts (the original and one copy) including illustrations (all material which cannot be set in type such as photographs, drawings and graphs) should be sent to Editor, American Numismatic Association, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901. For correspondence purposes the author should retain at least one copy.

The manuscript should be typewritten, double-spaced on one side of 8 1/2 x 11 heavy white bond paper with 1 1/2 inch margins at the top and left. The name(s), full postal address(es) and daytime telephone number(s) of the author(s) must appear on the first page.

The editorial staff reserves the right to edit all material to conform with the journal's style and policy.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Illustrations should be referred to in the text as Figs., and be given Arabic numbers. The back of each should be marked with the name(s) of the author(s) and the title of the article. An arrow should mark the top orientation of the illustration with each figure bearing a reference number corresponding to the same number in the text. Each illustration should be accompanied by a legend with all legends and reference numbers typed and grouped on a separate sheet of paper. All illustrative material should be protected with hard-board covers when mailed.

Photographs are to be unmounted and unattached to the manuscript. They should be high quality, glossy prints which are not retouched or labeled in any way on the face of the photograph. (When marking on the back, write on a hard surface such as glass or metal to avoid disfiguring the photographic surface.)

Drawings should be on separate sheets, drawn with India ink on illustration board or high grade drawing paper.

If an author lacks suitable photographic facilities, numismatic material may be sent to the Editor to be photographed by the ANA's certification service. Costs for mailing and insurance will be reimbursed.

Authors are also encouraged to list any literary sources for illustrations.

AUTHOR'S BIOGRAPHY

A biographical sketch of the author(s), which may be published with an accepted manuscript, is to be submitted also. It is not to exceed 100 words and should include such pertinent information as place and date of birth, educational and professional experience, hobby interests and numismatic awards and accomplishments. A photo, suitable for publication (a glossy portrait rather than snapshot), should accompany this information.

REFERENCES

Only sources closely related to the author's work should be quoted; exhaustive lists should be avoided. Accuracy is important. The suggested guide for reference preparation is The MLA Style Sheet (a Modern Languages Association publication) in which the following are basic examples for first references to books and periodicals:

² Allan Sutherland, "Scottish Coins and Emblems," The Numismatist, 51 (1938), 193.

Subsequent references to the same works can be made by citing only author and page number:

³ Carson, p. 348.

If more than one work by the same author has been quoted, a brief title and page number are sufficient:

⁴ Coins of the World, p. 348.

This information is offered in the spirit of aiding prospective authors prepare a more professional manuscript, thus assuring The Numismatist of a greater volume of publication-ready, editorial material.

Would you spend $7.95 to make a $100 profit?

OF COURSE YOU WOULD! Read On . . . THE $100.00 CHALLENGE from Q. David Bowers

A few years ago, in 1974 in fact, I wrote a book, High Profits from Rare Coin Investment. In it I gave the "inside secrets" which enabled many of my customers over the years to make hundreds, thousands, or hundreds of thousands of dollars by investing in coins. No, I'm not talking about millionaire customers but about regular collectors such as yourself who might spend $20 for coins this month, $15 the following month, and $50 the month after.

I tried to be sincere and "tell it like it is." Positives and negatives were discussed, hopefully resulting in an unbiased, objective view. So, I was quite pleased when the book was reviewed by the critics:

Coin World said: "Supplies useful information, backed by facts and figures, for the serious investor. Answers all questions in a straight-forward manner. By one of the nation's eminently successful numismatists."

Numismatic News was likewise very complimentary, and the erudite "Numismatic Literary Guild Newsletter" almost went overboard, in my modest opinion, by stating that the book "answers so many questions that investors should be willing to pay 10 times the price to obtain it!"

So, as you can see, I was quite pleased! And, the book was popular with the public as well. The first printing sold out immediately, and subsequent printings were devoured by eager readers. I was amazed when a German publisher, the leading numismatic publisher in that country in fact, liked it so much that he brought out a German-language edition, and the book isn't even about German coins! (It's about United States coins.)

Since 1974, when the book was first published, the market has undergone many changes. The price of gold has risen and fallen and risen again. Some coins have gone up. Others have come down. Interestingly enough, but not surprising to those who read the 1974 book, the coins of the type I recommended in 1974 rose sharply in value every year since then.

To reflect the price changes and also to add some new ideas, I have revised this 185 page book and have come out with a brand new 7th edition. It's just off the press and available now!

While I would like to think you would buy the book just to have an evening or two of interesting reading (it is crammed full of stories, experiences, anecdotes, and the like), the fact is that most readers buy it with the hope that it will earn money for them. There's no harm in that. After all, with the distressing news one reads about the stock market sinking to new lows in recent months, about inflation, about the loss of purchasing power of the dollar, and so on, today's aware citizen has to take every chance he can to secure the financial future of himself and his family. And, it's no consolation that cash in a savings account has actually declined sharply in purchasing power over the years as a result of inflation.

Rare coins have traditionally been an intelligent alternative. And, if you're interested in rare coins, I think you'll find my book to be a very valuable addition to intelligent numismatic investment. Do you know that $1000 invested in a representative group of coins in 1948 would have increased in value to $95,488 by this year? See page 77 of my book for details! And, sadly, at the same time the purchasing power of $1000 cash in a safe deposit box sank below $300.

I feel so strongly that the book will make profits for you that I give a $100 challenge. Here it is: The book costs you $7.95, postpaid. If you order it via the special coupon at the bottom of this page I'll make this offer. If this book doesn't cause you to make $100 or more profit within the next year by October 1, 1981, you can send me a postcard or write me a letter anytime between October 1, 1981 and January 1, 1982, and I'll not only refund the $7.95 you paid for the book, I'll send you an extra dollar for your time and trouble (for a total of $8.95), and YOU CAN KEEP THE BOOK FREE!

There are no ifs, ands, or buts! There are no gimmicks, no strings attached. All you have to do is to let me know that the book didn't make $100 or more for you and you'll get your money back plus a profit!

So, you can't lose, you either make $100 or more (actually, many past readers have made thousands of dollars!) or else you get your money back plus a profit!

It's for real. Please send me the coupon today.

The A.N.A. Mid-Year Auction

In February of 1980, Cunningham's conducted the first A.N.A. Mid-Year Convention Auction in Albuquerque. Numismatists from coast to coast are still talking about the many record high prices realized for consignors to that auction and the professional manner in which the auction was conducted.

As a result of this success, The A.N.A. has selected Cunningham's to handle the 1981 A.N.A. Mid-Year Auction in Hawaii. Cunningham's considers it a distinct honor to be chosen to conduct this prestigious auction for the second consecutive year.

Due to the well known success of the 1980 A.N.A. Mid-Year Auction and the alluring Hawaii location, the 1981 A.N.A. Mid-Year is expected to attract many more earnest collectors and dealers. In fact, many see the A.N.A. Mid-Year Auction in Hawaii as potentially larger than the A.N.A. Annual Convention.

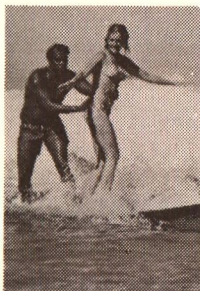

When you add it all up, the February A.N.A. Mid-Year Auction in beautiful Hawaii may be the best opportunity ever to get top dollar for your coins. Also, Cunningham's Commission rate for this big auction is only 15% with no hidden charges.

When you decide to sell, you want the highest possible price for your collection. So does Bowers & Ruddy Galleries.

We know how much time and money you have given to your collection, and we treat your property as though it were ours! We are working together to obtain the same result — high prices — since our commission is a percentage of the price which each lot brings.

Years of numismatic expertise go into the cataloguing of your coins. Unmatched photographic illustrations (color and black and white) of important pieces are placed right with the lots. We give you and your coins treatment of an uncompromising nature — to entice bidders to bid liberally.

Don't sell valuable rarities or choice type coins outright. Don't trust the big job of offering them to the collecting public to a little auction firm. If you do either, you will probably not get nearly what you should for your coins. Instead, consider for a moment the valuable qualities which are yours through a Bowers and Ruddy Galleries rare coin auction — qualities which can be yours for just a low commission rate.

Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, Inc.

IMMEDIATE CASH ADVANCES are available in any amount. There is no need to sell your property outright at less than you should receive, because we will gladly give you an instant cash advance the moment your consignment is accepted for auction.

COMPLETE PROTECTION FOR YOUR HOLDINGS. Your property is fully insured and protected in our bank vaults from the moment we receive it—and we will even send couriers to pick up your coins if your collection warrants it. A secure financial settlement following the sale is also guaranteed, for no auction service anywhere is more reliable than Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, a member of the billion-dollar-strong General Mills family of companies. Peace of mind is yours!

PROFESSIONAL REFERENCES. Our founders, James F. Ruddy (retired) and Q. David Bowers, are life members of the American Numismatic Association and are members of the Professional Numismatists Guild (Mr. Ruddy is a recipient of the PNG's Distinguished Service Award, and Mr. Bowers is a director of the PNG), the International Association of Professional Numismatists, the American Numismatic Society, the Royal Numismatic Society of London, and other leading organizations worldwide. Both are widely known for their research and writings in the field of numismatics, including best-selling books on coin grading and investing.

THE BEST POSSIBLE PRICES for your rarities and choice type coins are the result of our famous numismatic expertise, our research into varieties, our superbly illustrated auction catalogues, and our extensive advertising for each auction. THERE IS NO FINER AUCTION SERVICE!

Join the group of satisfied Bowers & Ruddy Galleries consignors next time you decide to sell your collection or significant single rarities (minimum consignment $2000). You owe it to yourself to consider the sale of your coins carefully — so, fill out the coupon below and we'll send you our informative brochure, "How to Sell Your Coins for the Best Price," or call our auction department or Q. David Bowers on our toll free auction action number, (800) 421-4224. They'll give you complete details about including your collection in one of our upcoming auction sales.

WHOLESALE COINS? SURE!

Ever heard the phrase, "There is no Santa Claus in numismatics" or "You can't get bargains in rare coins anymore"? To these statements we politely say phooey! How do you think dealers buy their coins? The simple fact is that most dealers buy a good portion of their stock from other dealers. We have been to countless coin shows and have seen coins change hands as much as a dozen times between dealers attending. Rest assured, each dealer makes a profit everytime the coins change hands! True, buying properly graded coins at the right price is not easy work; you either have to own a coin shop or travel all over town and country to shows. Unfortunately, most dealers and investors can not.

THAT'S WHERE WE FIT IN

For over twelve years we have been supplying rare U.S. coins to dealers and investors all over the world. We attend coin shows all year around, where the prices are the most competitive, buying in large volume to get the lowest possible prices on popular and properly graded U.S. coins. By doing so, we are able to sell in large volume and at the lowest possible prices.

Although we intended to make this strictly an investment program, we realized that this would be highly attractive to dealers as well since: (1.) properly graded coins are becoming harder and harder to find and dealers must look to larger dealers to fill their needs, and (2.) our commission or profit margin is just 5% to 15% depending on demand and availability. Since we are able to buy at good prices in the first place, dealers or those wanting to be dealers can afford to resell the coins for usually modest and quick profits. But, unlike most investment programs, YOU make the choices of what types and grades of U.S. coins you wish to purchase. (We do not recommend this program to collectors, as we can not always guarantee specific dates and mints.)

HOW IT WORKS

Just make a general list of everything you need or want and send it to us along with the total amount you wish to spend. We maintain one of the largest U.S. rare coin inventories in the South and can supply our clients with anything from Pattern and Colonials to Proof Sets and BU rolls. You may send any dollar amount you wish from $50 to $50,000. On the other hand, should you wish investment consultation and wish us to recommend certain coins for your portfolio, we are always happy to do so. We stand behind every coin we sell and when we send coins to you we let you know why they will appreciate, when they will appreciate, and even when we think it best to sell. Our primary function is more of a Coin Broker rather than a Coin Dealer.

OUR POLICY

1. We stand behind each and every coin we sell, whether it costs a half dollar or a half million dollars. Every coin come in its own individual protective holder which enables the coin to be seen clearly on obverse, reverse, and rim. Each coin is backed by our WRITTEN guarantee of grade and authenticity good for the lifetime ownership of the purchaser, subject to ANACS (American Numismatic Association Certification Service) approval. All coins are graded by ANA standards and any or all coins may be returned within 45 days of receipt for any or no reason for full immediate refund or exchange. WE GUARANTEE TO BUY BACK ANY COIN WE SELL AT THE SAME GRADE WE SOLD IT AS . . . and feel every dealer should, not only for the health of his business, but for the health of the hobby as well.

2. Because of increased cost and the high overhead involved, we do not accept credit cards. Payment should be made by certified or cashiers check, money order, or personal check with references. (Please allow 10 business days for clearance of personal checks and references with your first order.) With approved references, we will send up to 50% more material at your request on approval.

3. We handle thousands of coins each week and can not keep up with all of them. For this reason, we ask that you do not remove coins from original holders without permission in case you wish to return or sell them back to us.

4. Minimum order is $50.

5. All orders are shipped postpaid and insured or registered.

WE NEED YOUR EARLY TYPE COINS

The Douglas Weaver buying philosophy can be summed up in one simple rule that we always try to follow:

We would rather pay "too much" for nice, problem free coins than to accumulate an inventory of potential bargains that we need to apologize for.

When we attend major auctions, coin shows, or travel to purchase collections, we do so fully prepared to exceed every other offer in order to come away with the coins we need.

Presently we have need to purchase a varied selection of early United States type coins (1793-1807), to fill want lists and to balance our regular inventory.

It is our contention that when buying early type, each coin must be carefully judged on its own merits and not lumped into general categories of value and condition. We also maintain that much of the current pricing information that is available should be considered as only a very general guide. We are fully prepared to pay "whatever it takes" to obtain nice coins.

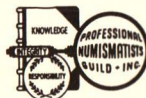

If you have something nice to sell in early type please give us an opportunity to meet your price or make an offer. We're confident that you will like our straight-forward, no-nonsense way of doing business.

This is NOT just a lot of hot air!

Every year for the past 20 years, thousands of collectors, investors, and other dealers have found that Robert Hughes has offered the highest prices for their material. As a matter of fact, we estimate that about 75% of our purchases are being made from other dealers. This means you can usually get more by dealing directly with us!

We don't dream of large coin purchases. We are constantly making them. Here are the actual figures for numismatic material which Robert L. Hughes has acquired in recent months:

March 1980	$1,447,209
February 1980	$2,394,581
January 1980	$1,008,147
December 1979	$590,700

Other dealers indicate that they want to spend a million dollars a month. We are! And we want more. We can pay immediately for individual rarities or collections valued at $1,000,000 . . . $5,000,000 . . . and up! The transaction is completely confidential . . . and you can be paid cash if you wish.

If you hear of an important collection that may be for sale, let us know. Robert L. Hughes Enterprises pays generous finder's fees on consummated transactions.

Please call us in confidence on our toll free number (800) 421-0588, except in California—call collect at (213) 278-4950. Ask for Bob Hughes, President, or Gary Gordon, Executive Vice President.

Sorry . . . We are not interested in buying gold or silver bullion or bullion coins (e.g. Krugerrands, bags of common silver coins, etc).

"MY TASTES ARE SIMPLE... I ONLY LIKE THE BEST!"

—Winston Churchill

It is true of cigars, and even more so of coins. The increasing value of superb quality coins is outpacing almost every conventional form of investment.

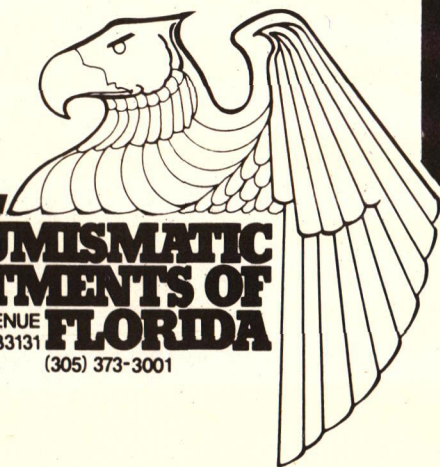

N.I.O.F. deals exclusively in the finest quality United States coins in the market. We strongly believe that the enduring strength of the coin market is found in the best quality coins. Granted, superb quality is harder than ever to come by, but there in lies the essence of true investing.

If you are a serious numismatic investor/collector, and you seek the best, then seek out the best in quality and source.

The Professional Numismatists Guild is the leading organization in the United States which restricts its membership to dealers who possess and demonstrate these three essential qualifications: KNOWLEDGE of the subject arising from extensive experience; RESPONSIBILITY to sell only fully authenticated and accurately described items of numismatic value; and INTEGRITY in assuring the buyer of a safe, honest, and mutually satisfying transaction.

1. A minimum of 21 years of age and 5 years as a full-time professional numismatist.

2. A minimum of $100,000 in numismatic assets.
3. Agreement to the PNG's strict Code of Ethics.
4. Screening by the PNG's Board of Directors.
5. Financial and character scrutiny by an outside firm.
6. Acceptance by ballot of the entire PNG membership.
7. Agreement to submit to legally binding arbitration to settle any dispute between a buyer and a PNG-member dealer.

The next time you consider buying a rare coin or a piece of currency, consider the source! If the seller is a PNG member, your satisfaction is guaranteed. The credentials of other trusted professionals in your life—your doctor, your lawyer, your stockbroker, for example—are important, yes vital, to you. Likewise, you should demand the highest credentials from your rare coin dealer. The answer: a member of the Professional Numismatists Guild.

A free catalogue of the nearly 200 PNG member dealers is yours free upon application to the Executive Secretary.

Your Money and Time Deserve Our Money and Time ... and a Lot More ...

After years of effort, dollars, and hours of study, you have managed to put together a collection of rare and quality coins of which you can be proud. Certainly, your collection is worth a lot more today than it was when you first began. So, why not spend a little more time considering the best method of sale.

Superior Galleries can insure that your coins will bring the highest realized prices possible.

CONSIDER THESE ADVANTAGES:

- * Superior entered the field of numismatics in 1930. Where else can you get 47 years of experience?
- * We are a financially sound corporation, prepared to provide generous cash advancements at the time of consignment.
- * Your collection, while stored in our vaults, is fully insured at all times.
- * With the use of our extensive Numismatic Library, containing over 2,000 volumes, your coins will be expertly catalogued by a staff of professionals who are more than just familiar with your type of collection.
- * We know the importance of quality photographs in assisting mail bidders, we therefore use more photographs than most European or Domestic auction firms.
- * Our auctions are strategically planned around major numismatic events to insure that our sessions are well attended.
- * Our mailing list has been carefully developed and closely screened to provide our consignment with qualified anxious buyers who are prepared to pay realistic prices for quality coins.
- * The promotion of our auction sale begins with the first consignment we receive. Our spacious location in Beverly Hills provides a most comfortable atmosphere and allows every floor bidder the opportunity to view the lots at least three months prior to our sale. We personally contact our active buyers and provide private viewing of your coins.
- * Most importantly, after the sale is over and you have reaped your financial rewards for all of the years you have spent building your collection, our catalog becomes your catalog ... A permanent record of all that you have achieved in numismatics.

We, at Superior Galleries, are certain that our method of auction sale is the finest available and we have proved it to our consignors. Now, we want to prove it to you. We will be happy to provide you with all of the information you will need as well as a past auction catalog and prices realized so you may judge for yourself.

5. We are prepared to buy your entire collection, not just the choice material.
6. You are selling to a coin retailer, not someone who sells to another dealer. This is so important. Consequently, you will receive the highest possible price.
7. The company you will be dealing with is well known and respected throughout the numismatic world. Backed with over 30 years of experience in buying, selling, and grading coins, MIKE FOLLETT RARE COIN CO. has established itself as a leader in the numismatic fraternity.

To conclude, take advantage of our policy. It is a service that thousands of satisfied customers have found profitable and safe. We sincerely believe that we can go further in meeting your individual needs than any other buying program offered today.

1946 UNITED NATIONS MONETARY PATTERNS

ORIGINAL BRILLIANT PROOFLIKE SPECIMENS

These ESSAI DUCATONS were struck in 1946 as an International Monetary Unit. After striking only 313 GOLD and 1,000 each in SILVER and BRONZE, the dies were destroyed due to the objections of the Director of U.S. Mint.

The beautiful design of the flags of the Big Five Powers (France, England, United States, Soviet Union and China) combined with the symbolic "Four Freedoms" figures makes these an exciting and popular issue. These intriguing DUCATONS have been long sought-after by collectors of U.S., Foreign Gold and Silver Crowns.

SALES ON COMMISSION CONSIGN YOUR COINS TO SEABY AND PAY ONLY 15% COMMISSION ON THE SELLING PRICE.

Seaby is a household name in the coin and medal business. Seaby's Coin & Medal Bulletin has a wider circulation than almost any other numismatic list or auction catalogue. Although our business is mainly buying and selling coins and medals outright, collectors and dealers may be interested in selling individual items or collections through Seaby on commission at 15%. The 15% covers:

- (1) Offering your items to our extensive clientele through our want lists.
- (2) Expert listing in the Coin & Medal Bulletin by one of our 18 specialist numismatists.
- (3) Full insurance coverage.

Clients are asked to consign items to us for a minimum of three months at a minimum of approx. $34 per item. Items over approx. $575 will be illustrated free but will incur a charge of approx. $17 if the vendor wishes an item returned. Items under approx. $575 will be illustrated, if requested, at a fee of approx. $17.

We will give advice on the pricing of material. In the interest of our retail clients, we reserve the right to refuse items which we feel to be over-valued by the vendor.

If you have never seen our Coin & Medal Bulletin, write for a complimentary copy.

October 11, 1978 was a bad day for some auctioneers.

It was the day Spink ran their first ever coin auction. And what an outstanding success it was, totalling £264,000.

The record prices that were realised reflected the high quality of coins that we offered for sale.

It was just the start of something big. Because Spink Coin Auctions have gone from strength to strength.

We now hold auctions in London, Sydney and Zurich. They have all been very successful. Including the finest collection of modern Greek coins ever offered for sale. And the most important collection of English coins offered for 20 years.

That sale saw the world record price for a penny broken twice in two days.

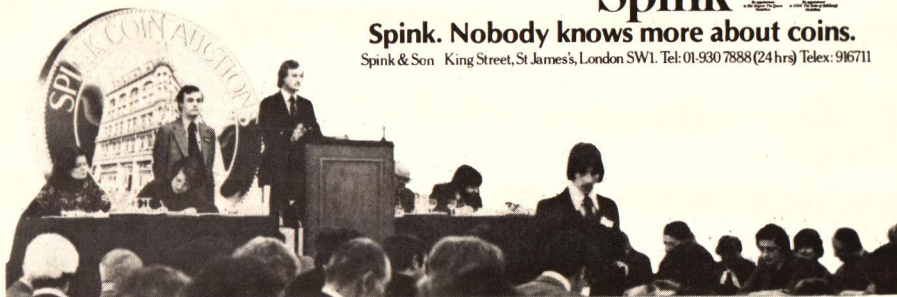

Our rapid rise to the top of the coin auction league took some people by surprise. But those who knew Spink to be the world's leading coin dealers knew it was only a matter of time before they became the world's leading coin auctioneers.

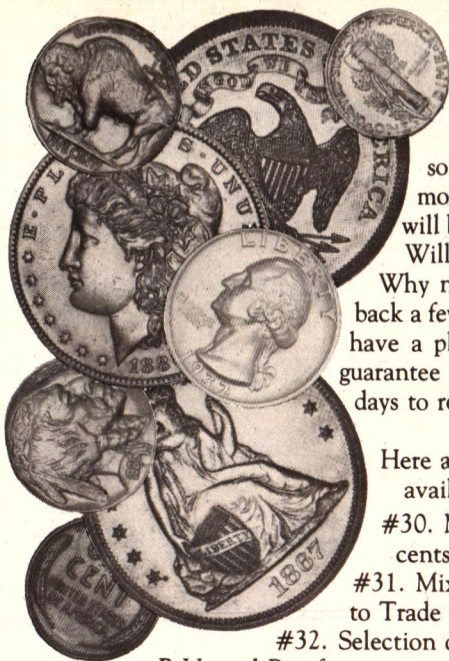

Spink Coin Auctions are here to stay.

Simply Simons.

When you finally get around to investing in rare coins, there is but one alternative: M.B. Simons and Associates, Ltd.

At M.B. SIMONS & ASSOCIATES, LTD., we have been in the main-stream of numismatic professionalism for over fifteen years, and our firm is steadily growing. We are one of the most firmly established rare coin corporations in the United States, and we aren't shy about flaunting our credentials; life members of the American Numismatic Association, members of the Professional Numismatists' Guild, the American Numismatic Society, and the Numismatic Literary Guild, as well as all major state, regional and educational organizations. From our headquarters outside Philadelphia we do business around the world and last year Krause Publications (producers of Numismatic News and other noteworthy publications) presented us their "Customer Service Award" for high business standards.

Although we do not claim to be the only noteworthy numismatic investment firm, we are recognized as one the best, and we believe our program is unique and worthy of your consideration.

In a word, we are flexible. Most major coin companies promote programs in which clients are required to subscribe to a regimen of fixed monthly payments. We do not offer such a plan because we feel it leads to certain abuses, and clients wind up with coins they neither want nor enjoy. Our method is to work with you as an individual, in terms of your own investment goals and needs. Only then will we supply you with investment grade material to meet those needs.

Your investment is ultimately your own decision, and should reflect your own taste and intelligence as a result. We are here to advise you and to help locate the right coins for you at the right price. In so doing we have been instrumental in assembling some of the finest numismatic collections in the United States and abroad.

Our coin catalogues and fixed price lists are a guide for you, but your choices are by no means limited to the items we have in inventory. We are, after all, dealers in recognized rarities, and they are not as easily located as a block of common stock! We will gladly locate a particular piece for you if it is available, and we will be pleased to represent you at all major numismatic auctions.

We feel our research department is the best in the business. Our well trained, professional staff spends many hours each week researching price histories and current trends — constantly looking for the undervalued market areas that will provide you with the best possible investment material. In addition, we employ Certified Public Accountants who will gladly advise you on the numismatic investment of private funds, corporate pension plans, Keogh programs, or estate planning.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE MAIL ORDER COIN BUSINESS!

There is no pressure. A buyer obtaining a coin in a neighborhood store or at a coin show, may feel the pressure of the sale at that instant (in front of the watchful stare of the coin's owner). When ordering coins by mail, a buyer can sit down at his leisure and closely inspect his purchase to his own satisfaction without hurry. If the mail order buyer is dissatisfied with his purchase, he may return it for exchange, replacement, or a refund. But what can the buyer do who bought the coin in the rush of the situation and upon closer inspection finds out it isn't at all what he wanted? Or the quality he wanted? He has two options:

- 1) Admits he was a sucker and takes his loss, too embarrassed by his mistake to take it back, or . . .
- 2) He takes it back to the dealer (if he wasn't at a coin show, and the dealer is still in town) and humiliates himself by having to explain why he didn't like the coin after he bought it "sight seen." An even worse situation is when the buyer approaches the dealer and is told that the coin was on commission from a "client" and that "I already forwarded the money and will have to get in touch with them and let you know."

LET THE BUYER BEWARE

We know the tired old argument about buying coins through the mail: "but then you're out the postage, time and trouble." But what's a few days and 2 or 3 bucks postage compared to $200.00 lost on a coin that can't be returned for one reason or another? The "fly-by-night" mail order houses and other "scheme" type operations are almost completely non-existent.

With the strict restrictions enforced and the careful eye of the regulatory agencies that safeguard the mails, in addition to the publications themselves which closely screen their advertisers, buying coins by mail has become one of the safest ways of obtaining coins.

We do not intend in this message to turn you away from your local coin dealer, coin club, or coin show purchases. We are only asking that you consider this point of view when someone complains about the mail order business . . . whether this complaining is to get your business for themselves, or just plain old complaining for the sake of it without checking the facts first.

We also ask you to check prices, because in most publications the competition is fierce, so prices must be competitive. (Does the coin seller in an out of the way spot have to be competitive when there's not another dealer around for miles?)

WE INVITE YOU to shop for your coins by mail, competitively and without pressure, to buy from any one of the dealers' display ads in this publication (not just ours). Whether you're a collector, investor, or dealer, if you desire the type of merchandise we sell, sooner or later you'll try us once . . . and when you do you will have found your permanent mail order coin dealer.

Please check our current ads in any one of the following publications:

Numismatic News, Coin World, Coinage, Coins, Coin Prices, Coin Collecting

We invite you to join our mailing list by sending us a postcard with your name and address on it.

Treasure it, bestow it, wear it with pride. Shema Yisrael Medal.

Shema Yisrael. Hear O Israel. It's a daily prayer. A blessing for peace. The very essence of the Jewish faith. A mother recites it to her cradling infant. These solemn words are uttered with the last gasps of life. Jews are born with the Shema. They live with it. They die with it.

"Hear O Israel. The Lord is our God. The Lord is one."

Featured on this unique, superbly crafted medal. Designed and minted in Israel, this medal is offered in Gold, Silver and Bronze, in various sizes.

Before you rush into the commemorative boom, rush into this great new book.

A Comprehensive Guide to United States Commemorative Coins.

The most complete authoritative reference book ever published on U.S. Commemorative Coins.

Compared to other rare coin opportunities, collecting and investing in U.S. Commemorative Coins was last on the numismatist's list. But now, all that has changed: during the last year or year and a half, commemorative coins have been generating an unexpectedly high degree of interest and enthusiasm among collectors from coast to coast. The result is a booming new market for you to enter and profit from. But before you do, it would be wise to first invest in the one book that can turn your commemorative coin collection into a commemorative coin bonanza.

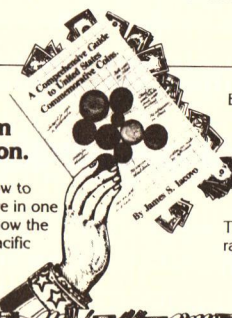

The book that puts it all together.

Mr. Iacovo spent two and a half years undertaking the difficult and time-consuming task of preparing a book that covers everything an aspiring or accomplished numismatist needs to know about U.S. Commemorative Coins. The book defines, in precise terms, what constitutes MS60, MS65 and MS65+ commemorative coins. It covers in detail all aspects of grading, specific surface peculiarities, luster and abrasions. Its pages reveal facts that tell you about pricing, pricing premiums and pricing trends. Included are many charts, coin evaluations and Mr. Iacovo's special "Buying Tips" that combine to make this major work the most valuable and useful ready-reference source on U.S. Commemorative Coins you can own. It is a book no numismatist should be without. And, if you collect commemoratives, it is a book you cannot be without.

A Commemorative Guide is a compendium of profitable information.

Virtually everything you need to know to make the most profitable decisions is here in one easy-to-use reference source. Need to know the history of the retail price for a Panama-Pacific Exposition Gold Dollar? Your Commemorative Guide has the answer. What should you look for when inspecting a York Half Dollar? Your Commemorative Guide tells you.

Aside from the reference pricing charts, individual coin evaluations and thorough index are the well-researched and intelligent Statistical Tables on both Silver and Gold U.S. Commemorative Coins. No critical area is left undiscussed.

☐ Yes! Please rush my First Edition copy of A Comprehensive Guide to United States
Commemorative Coins.

My check or money order for $12.95 per copy is enclosed.*

Damaging coin oxidation and currency fading caused by "Ultra Violet Rays" from sunlight or fluorescent light is prevented by the use of Mylar. "Well, I do because out of all the dealers in the world, I paid the highest price.

"Recalling my past acquisitions, I also remember a magnificent piece that I picked up in Superior's June 1979 auction . . . Italy's Humbert I 1878 5 lire in EF.

"Surely you remember that timeless piece I purchased from NASCA's 'London Collection' in July 1979; that rare Papal States 1589 Anno V. scudo in Fine.

"I am interested in only the finest quality, the rarest condition—the ultimate in numismatics. Why? Because to acquire this caliber of material, I have to pay the highest prices available."

THE NEW SEVENTH EDITION

A GUIDE TO THE GRADING OF U.S. COINS

by

Martin R. Brown ANA 5508
John W. Dunn ANA 25156

It should be impressed upon the readers of this book that the sole purpose of its contents is to extract a systematic method whereby one can evaluate the physical condition or degree of wear on most minted U.S. coins so as to permit one to assign a current market value (independent of this text) to each individual coin according to wear.

This new seventh edition has been the result of requests from numismatic collectors all over the country. We feel that its contents have been improved considerably, especially the totally new visual aids or illustrations of coins which have been prepared with emphasis on greater detail and similarity to actual coins minted during U.S. history. This attractively bound book contains 270 pages and over 1550 illustrations.

HASTY SELLING VS. QUICK BORROWING

Selling your collection can be profitable if you have enough time to find the best prices. But a collection sold quickly is seldom sold profitably.

In any emergency, borrow the money you need at Edelman's. Use your collection as collateral and still retain complete ownership.

At Edelman's, you can obtain quick confidential loans for any amount up to 80% of the value of your properties — from $50 to $50,000 and more. Take as long as 30 months to pay with a repayment plan tailored to your specific needs. Your collection will be safely protected in Edelman's air-conditioned vaults until you reclaim it. Write today for further information.

WE PAY MORE! WHY SELL FOR LESS?

WE WANT TO BUY: Your entire collection is urgently needed no matter what the size, if it contains the items we are looking for. Generally we are interested in any collection which contains Choice and Rare coins and early U.S. coins in AU or better condition.

SELLING TO US: You will find that selling to our Rare Coin Galleries is easy and safe. Here is all you do—Package your coins carefully and send them to us insured or registered mail. You may state the value you wish to receive or send your coins for our generous offer. Upon receipt David Bland, Jr. will personally examine your coins and notify you immediately. Our offer will be in the form of a confidential insured check—cash payments can also be arranged. No collection is too large, (we have over $1,000,000.00 to spend). If your collection is too large to mail please send an itemized inventory to the attention of David Bland, Jr., and we will travel to you if the size of the collection warrants it.

RECEIVE MORE FOR YOUR COINS: Because our needs are so great at this time we will pay more than any other major dealer in the U.S. Why sell your collection for less when it is so easy and safe to sell your coins to David Bland, Jr.?

Paying Top Prices

Not Just A Slogan But Guaranteed Results:

- 1) We are consistently one of the biggest buyers at any major coin convention we attend. The coins that we buy from other dealers have mostly been purchased from collectors. Why not sell to the top buyer?
- 2) Year after year we have bought more collections from collectors than other dealers on a competitive bid basis. We are not afraid to bid against our competitors; we welcome the opportunity.
- 3) We have one of the larger mail order businesses in the country and we are constantly in need of good numismatic material. Since we have the customers we can and will pay more.
- 4) We have never had to pass up a collection because of size. We will not try to buy your collection and then pay you for it as we sell it.
- 5) We spent over 100 days traveling last year to buy coins. Few can match this record. If you have a collection for sale, we would appreciate having an opportunity to show you how much we can pay.

You Have The Following Options Available:

- 1) You may ship your coins to us with the prices wanted.
- 2) You may ship your coins for our offer. We will contact you immediately with our offer.
- 3) Large collections we will travel to see.

COINS & CURRENCIES OF THE WORLD

Our first year in our new mall location has proven to be extremely successful. We are in need of choice numismatic material. Brisk inventory turnover has squelched our efforts to produce a fixed price list; however, we hope to be able to offer a list in the near future. Until such time, please feel free to send your want list for our quote.

WANTED! TOKENS & MEDALS related to DENTISTRY

From any and all countries of the world. Please send item or clear rubbing for my offer. Be sure to state if gold, silver, copper, tin, lead, zinc, or whatever.

These are for a collector friend of some 20 years' standing who has asked my help in furthering his collection. Because my friend now lives in a far-away place and only he knows what he already has, I have to forward offerings to him and await his answer. Thus it may take a couple of weeks for you to get a reply from me on these dental items. I will acknowledge your letter upon receipt and will get back to you. If you are a collector and long-time ANA member, I will simply put the two of you in direct contact. My interest in this matter is that of a friend and in no way commercial.

QUIETLY . . .

and with little ballyhoo, I've been paying up-to-date, current market prices for fine foreign coins, tokens, essays, and commemorative medals for many years.

Since 1958 I've been buying and selling numismatic items of quality, and with over 20 years of experience in foreign numismatics, a constantly increasing knowledge born of a real interest in and devotion to the subject, and a reference library which compares favorably to most, I feel I am well equipped to pay realistic prices for anything worthwhile you have for sale. Let me hear from you whenever you are thinking of selling.

WHO KNOWS THE FUTURE?

The Fortune-Teller is America's fastest-growing rare coin advisory. Unlike other (and more expensive) newsletters, it is clearly written with specific recommendations and exact predictions.

In the past three years, our predictions have been extremely accurate. If you collect Silver Dollars, Type, Commem's, Gold, etc., Les and Sue Fox may very well know your numismatic future.
